PARKER HERE FOR MEETINGS OF CONFERENCE

Division of Work of the Congress Has Been Made by the Officers.

MANY SPEAKERS REACH ATLANTA THIS MORNING

Ambassador Bryce Is Unable to Attend Congress on Account of Other Engagements--Greatest Gathering in History of the South Expected at the Opening Session.

Within another twenty-four hours the first session of the Southern Commercial Congress will be held and Atlanta will have within her gates the greatest assemblage of eminent men in the south's history. The conference opens on Wednesday.

Practically every detail of the program for the three days of sessions has been worked out and everything is in readiness for the event. The city's business district and official centers are gaily decorated in national colors.

President Parker Here.

John M. Parker, of New Orleans, president of the congress, arrived during the morning, and without delay buckled down to the task of completing preliminary details and aiding the staff of officials who have been in the city for several days.

"To the young man," said Mr. Parker, "the meeting will hold special attraction. We intend to bring the young men prominently to the front and to show them the importance of their position in our section's progress. There is no reason why so many young men should go north to enter business. The field here should be made so attractive that they will remain and help develop the south. They are the ones on whom the south's future is dependent and the sessions of the congress will dwell strongly on this point."

Another prominent arrival Monday was Nathan Bedford Forrest, grandson of the confederate general, who comes from Memphis. He is adjutant general and chief of staff of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans. Judge Judson C. Clements, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, is also in Atlanta for the congress.

Arrivals of Today.

Two members of the executive committee to arrive today will be Thomas S. Southgate, of Norfolk, and Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Washington. Charles A. Douglas and Surgeon General Walter A. Wyman, U. S. A., arrive Thursday.

Former Governor David R. Francis, of St. Louis, Mo., telegraphed that he would arrive Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, with the St. Louis delegation, consisting of about fourteen prominent men.

James Bryce, English ambassador to this country, has written Edwin L. Quarles, secretary of the congress, that engagements taking him to a distant part of the country have made it impossible for him to attend the congress.

Division of Duties.

At a conference of the working force of the Southern Commercial Congress Monday morning, a division of duties in connection with the three days' session was decided upon. Grosvenor Dawe, the managing director, will have his headquarters in the lobby of the Piedmont, where he will receive all speakers and advise them of their reservations. He will also have charge of the press department.

Edwin L. Quarles, secretary of the congress, will be in charge of the platform throughout all sessions and by means of his touch with the secretaries of state delegations, will thus have contact with the entire convention.

Dr. Clarence J. Owens, commissioner of agriculture of the congress, will be in charge of the entire registration system. Two registration places will be open; one in the lobby of the Auditorium, and the other in the lobby of the Piedmont. Dr. Owens will also act as an escort to a number of the important speakers.

Walter Hyams, who has recently moved to Atlanta from New York, representing here a number of the leading financial interests of New York, will have charge of handling the crowds in the Auditorium.

B. F. Arthur, field representative of the Southern Commercial Congress, will be Mr. Dawe's personal aide at the Piedmont.

NEED BUSINESS AGENT FOR LOCAL TYPO UNION

Owing to the large increase in membership and the work of organization, Atlanta Typographical Union, No. 48, will decide upon the question of electing a business agent on their next meeting, Wednesday, March 15. This step is one of the most important considered by the union in the past year, as it means more time and attention can be given to all the various branches of work that come under the attention of the officers of the union at present. The business agent will be able to entirely eliminate a majority of the work done by officers at present. President Luther H. Still, of the union, is highly in favor of such a move.

Judge Neville Quits Railroad.

Gulfport, Miss., March 6.—Judge James H. Neville, general counsel for the Gulf and Ship Island railroad for seven years, leaves the employ of that company March 10 to resume general practice in this city. Vice President T. P. Hale, who has been with the same road fifteen years, severs his connection some time this month.

MILLION STOCK FOR TRUST CO.

Georgia Co. Doubles Its Stock.

Strong Board of Directors Is Named---Company Adds to Business Administration of Estates and Development of Bond Business.

The capital stock of the Trust Company of Georgia will be increased from $500,000 to $1,000,000 on May 1. This step, which will make the company the strongest of its kind in the south, was determined upon at a meeting of the stockholders in the Equitable building Monday afternoon. It was also decided to maintain a surplus of $600,000.

This measure follows a number of conferences among some of the leading capitalists of Atlanta during which it was decided that as it was becoming an absolute necessity to the city to have a more powerful organization doing only trust company work, the matter of increasing the stock should be made an issue at the stockholders' meeting. This was done, and the measure was passed almost unanimously.

The following strong board of directors was named:

C. E. Currier, president Atlanta National Bank; J. W. English, Sr., president Fourth National Bank; Robert J. Lowry, president Lowry National Bank; Robert F. Maddox, vice president American National Bank; W. E. Chapin, southern manager Pennsylvania Fire Insurance Company; J. N. Goddard, capitalist; A. V. Gude, capitalist; John W. Grant, capitalist; Brooks Morgan, general manager Frank E. Block Co.; John E. Murphy, capitalist; James H. Nunnally, president Nunnally Company; J. Carroll Payne, vice president Trust Company of Georgia; Charles A. Wickersham, president Atlanta and West Point Railroad Company; E. Woodruff, president Trust Company of Georgia.

A part of trust company work that has been rather neglected in the south heretofore, but which has proved of vast value to the companies of the east, —the administration of estates,—will be given particular attention in the future, as will the development of the bond business. These new features will make the organization not only prominent in the south, but also throughout the country.

The name of the Equitable building, which the company owns, and in which the offices are situated, will be changed to the Trust Company of Georgia building.

In order to increase the capital to the desired figure of $1,000,000, and to maintai nthe $600,000 surplus, the stock will sell at $160 a share, enough to accomplish this purpose. This selling price is very little below the book value of the stock.

The Trust Company of Georgia was established twenty years ago, being the first o fits kind in the south, with a capital stock of $200,000. It was called at that time the Commercial Travelers' Savings Bank. This name was soon changed to the present title. Fifteen years later, after a successful career, the stock was increased to $500,000.

Since that time is has done a strictly trust company business, exercising a strong influence in the financial circles of this city. As such it has made successful efforts to reorganize and establish some of the largest and most important manufacturing concerns in the state.

HOPELESS IDIOCY MARKS THIS AGE

Bishop Kilgo Assails "Broad-Minded Men."

"Your Broad-minded Man Is a Traitor to God, a Hireling of Man, Open to Bribery," He Says---Age of Education, Not Intelligence.

The feature of the state-wide conference on evangelism at the Wesley Memorial church yesterday was the address made at the evening session by Bishop John C. Kilgo on the text, "Take Heed to the Doctrine."

"I would not exchange the doctrine my mother taught me or God's love and prayer for all the pet theories of your modern theological seminaries," said he. "I have no philosophy of prayer. America's supreme need is an orthodox pulpit. The Methodist preacher is ordained to be a narrow man. The broad-minded preacher is a travesty on religion.

"I would rather be old Jasper, of Richmond, going to heaven to learn that the sun do not move, than to be Bishop Potter, with the stench of a saloon upon his name for the next thousand years. Give me narrowness as against all your ecclesiastical mitres. Your broad-minded man is a trajtor to God, a hireling of man, open to bribery.

"You talk about the progress of the new age. It is not an intellectual age. There is a great deal of education and very little intelligence. In place of Bunyan, you read the 'One Woman.' The Bible is no longer read, Bunyan is no longer read, the classics are no longer read, but in their stead novels, cheap plays, magazine stories, the literature of all ages with detached passages from everything, and the whole of nothing. It is to me an age almost marked with hopeless idiocy.

"The times are full of liars, adulterers, Sabbath-breakers and houses of infamy. I don't mind hunting doodles and playing William A. Trimble Toe, but I won't argue with your preacher sceptic."

BOARD REDUCTION DOWNED 19 TO 9

Measure Was Advocated by Two Mayors.

The board reduction ordinance was defeated in the general council yesterday afternoon by a vote of 19 to 9.

No measure that ever came up before council created as much interest or caused a warmer debate. Alderman Johnson, who was in the chair, announced that he would suspend the rule limiting debate, and everybody had as much time as they wanted to talk.

The final vote that defeated the measure was as follows:

For the Reduction of Boards—Candler, Kelley, Evins, Grant, Warren, Van Dyke, Hatcher, Dent, Humphrey—9.

Against Board Reduction—Maddox, Ragsdale, Everett, Spratling, Baskin, Curtis, McClelland, Harrison, Guess, Warnock, Vaughan, Greer, Sisson, Nutting, Andrews, Minor, Chambers, Stoy, Baker—19.

Councilman Evins, as chairman of the ordinance committee, reported favorably the resolution which called for a charter amendment to reduce the membership of all the city boards from twelve to seven members, by electing five members from five board districts, the mayor and a member of council making the other two. The resolution provided that all the board members be declared put out of office on the 1st of next August, so a new election could at that time be held.

Councilman Evins made an earnest plea for the adoption of the resolution. He said that the boards were so large as to be unwieldy, and the city business was greatly hampered.

Councilman Chambers made a long speech against the resolution. He took the position that it was unwise to adopt any such measure, as it would be a blow at representative government.

Alderman Kelley spoke for the resolution, and Councilman Nutting spoke against it.

There were several more speeches, when Councilman Harrison moved the question, and the vote was as given above.

The reduction of the board members was advocated by both Mayor Maddox in his last address to council and by Mayor Winn in his inaugural address.

The resolution has been before council for several weeks, but for some time its defeat had been expected.

Saloon to 1,000 People.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 6.—In twelve counties of Indiana today the commissioners met and determined to restrict the number of saloons to one to each 1,000 of population, and in four other counties they decided that each 500 of population might have a saloon. A law recently passed gives county commissioners this prerogative. It will operate to close many salons in the cities of the state.

ORDER REGULARS TO SAM HOUSTON

Seventeenth Will Go to Mexican Borders.

The Seventeenth infantry, the Eleventh cavalry and a provisional regiment composed of twelve companies of coast artillery received orders last night to move on Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, and there hold themselves ready for further orders. The dispatch from Washington was received by General A. L. Mills early at night. He immediately communicated with Colonel Van Orsdale and the commander of the regiment of cavalry, and the two, together with the artillery companies, will reach Texas next week.

The orders come as a surprise to the officers, though the situation on the border is the direct cause of the removal. The fighting between the regulars and the revolutionists of Mexico, occurring just across the Rio Grande, at Juarez, not only stirred Texas, but has also moved the Washington authorities. It is not known how long the local regiments will be forced to remain in the Lone Star s though they will probably be kep their post until the cessation of ilities in Mexico.

Atlanta society will suffer from the sudden deprivation of some of its leading lights, as the officers and their wives have added much to the enjoyment of the gay set. The fact that they leave while Lent is forcing a certain curtailment of social functions is the only comforting feature.

More Troops for the Border.

San Francisco, March 6.—Two regiments of infantry, the Thirtieth, from the Presidio here, under Colonel Chubb, and the Eighth, from Monterey, commanded by Colonel Mason, have been ordered to the Mexican border. The troops, comprising twenty-two companies and four machine guns, are making hasty preparations tonight to leave on special trains for San Diego.

ATLANTA TO GIVE JOBS TO KINSFOLK

Ordinance Proposed by Mayor Beaten.

Ordinance, Which Went Down in Defeat, Prohibited the Employment by the City of Relatives of Officers of the City.

After one of the hardest fights that ever occurred in the city council an ordinance that was intended to prohibit the employment by the city of any relatives of the mayor and general council and heads of departments, unless approved by council, went down in defeat yesterday afternoon.

Three times was a vote taken, and in each instance the vote was against the ordinance.

What lent additional interest to the matter was that it was known that the ordinance was a measure particularly desired by the mayor, and its defeat was by some regarded as against the administration.

The ordinance in question provided that no person should be in the employ of the city who was related in the third degree by affinity or consanguinity to the mayor, members of council or the heads or members of any city department. The ordinance had been introduced on request of the mayor, and had received a favorable report from the ordinance committee.

It was tabled on motion of Councilman Harrison by a vote of 19 to 9.

Two Votes Taken.

After the friends of the measure had done some talking, the ordinance was taken from the table, and was then defeated by the following vote, when a movement was made to pass the ordinance:

Ayes—Kelley, Grant, Johnson, Warren, Van Dyke, Curtis, McClelland, Nutting, Dent, Andrews, Evins, Humphrey —12.

Nays—Maddox, Ragsdale, Everett, Spratling, Baskin, Hatcher, Guess, Warnock, Vaughan, Greer, Sisson, Minor, Chambers, Stoy, Baker, Harrison—16.

After some more talking on the side, the vote was reconsidered, and the second roll call was as follows:

Ayes—Kelley, Grant, Johnson, Ragsdale, Warren Van Dyke, Baskin, Nutting, Dent, Andrews, Evins, Humphrey —12.

Nays—Maddox, Everett, Spratling, Hatcher, Harrison, Guess, Warnock, Vaughan, Greer, Sisson, Minor, Chambers, Stoy, Baker—14.

It will be seen that Ragsdale and Baskin changed their vote. Curtis and McClelland were not present on the second call of the roll.

New Member Sworn In.

John E. McClelland, the new councilman from the second ward, to serve the unexpired term of Dr. Monroe Smith, was sworn in by Mayor Winn.

The following elections were held:

Carlos H. Mason, first ward; Robert C. Clarke, eight ward; John N. McEachern, seventh ward, and W. D. White, ninth ward, were all re-elected to succeed themselves for terms of three years on the police board.

John H. Harwell was re-elected to succeed himself as a trustee of the Grady hospital from the first ward.

Dr. George S. Tigner was elected a trustee of the Grady hospital to succeed Hugh M. Dorsey from the second ward.

Wade P. Harding was elected to succeed himself as a trustee of the Grady hospital from the third ward.

E. F. Fincher was elected to succeed himself as a trustee of the Grady hospital from the ninth ward.

Wesley H. Preston was elected to succeed himself as clerk of the recorder's court and assistant recorder, without opposition.

Given to Y. M. C. A.

Under a resolution introduced by Alderman Grant, the income for one year from the Hugh T. Inman bequest, amounting to $1,500, was appropriated for the work of the Young Men's Christian Association. The bequest was $25,000 of Constitution stock, the revenue to be used for charity.

A resolution by Alderman Spratling, and reported favorably by the ordinance committee, was read. It provides for a charter amendment so the council can fill vacancies in the body. The paper was re-referred to the ordinance committee with instructions that the charter amendment allow the

PREACHER REBUKES CHURCH FOR WANTING HOLY SUNDAY

Knoxville, Tenn., March 6.—In a meeting of the Knoxville church federation today Dr. J. J. Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist church, caused a sensation by the following declaration:

"The church has no right to make a man go to church if he prefers to go to a baseball game, and it is an individual matter what a man shall do with his Sundays. If persons play golf or baseball or eat ice cream, the church has no right to call a policeman and have them locked up. . . . It is not the church's business nor that of the state."

TELEPHONE BOY MADE $30,000 IN KEENE'S HOCKING DEAL

New York, March 6.—W. J. Ronan, a telephone boy in the office of James R. Keene, made $20,000 in Wall street speculations, according to his testimony today in the bankruptcy proceedings of Lathrop, Haskins & Co., one of the stock exchange firms caught in the collapse of the Hocking pool. Creditors of the firm are endeavoring to show that Mr. Keene was responsible for the failure of the pool, and that young Ronan, knowing that the collapse was imminent, turned his knowledge to good account.

Ronan testified that when the crash came he sold 600 shares of Hocking Coal at figures which prevailed during the upward movement. He had heard of the trouble overnight, and wanted to "go out," he said. Mr. Keene knew nothing of his transactions, he testified, and he kept the stock in his own safety vault in the produce exchange. After the crash he bought back 200 shares of Hocking at 26, he declared.

According to Ronan, he has a $5,000 account with a trust company, and owns 342 shares in different railroad companies. He balked at stating his salary, but finally wrote the amount on a slip of paper and handed it to the referee.

Doxology Is Sung.

As soon as the large company gathered in Cafe Durand realized that the stipulated sum had been completed, a great shout echoed through the hall. Over 300 men and women who, during the past three weeks, have given all their available time to the movement, had been fearing up to the last minute that the necessary $600,000 might not be raised, and that all their efforts might go for nothing. When, however, Chairman J. K. Orr announced that the sum had been completed the tension broke. The men leaped to their feet, cheering and wildly waving table napkins. Then, in the far end of the hall someone began singing the Doxology, and in a moment the entire company had taken it up and were sounding forth the grand old hymn of praise and thanksgiving.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty cents and one dollar.

However, if you wish first to test its wonderful merits, send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle, absolutely free. When writing be sure and mention The Atlanta Daily Constitution.

low-workers, was heartily cheered. Chairman Orr, whose ready wit and sound common sense has served to cheer the campaigners throughout the movement, was called upon for a speech, and when he seemed loath to respond, was lifted bodily to the center of a table and forced to speak.

The luncheon began promptly at 7 o'clock, with a large crowd in attendance.

Ladies in Attendance.

The ladies, headed by Mrs. James Jackson, president of the Y. W. C. A., came in a bit late, and were given a cheer in recognition of the excellent services they have performed in the joint campaign. Colonel Robert J. Lowry, Captain James W. English and Samuel M. Inman, all members of the executive committee, who have been a great help during the closing days of the campaign, were loudly applauded as they filed to their seats.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, after the luncheon had been finished, Chairman Orr rapped for order and called the meeting which was to decide the fate of the entire campaign.

Then, in response to the calls of Mr. Orr, the subscriptions came piling in. The women, who were later to aid materially in the grand finale, helped materially at this time by reporting a large portion of the $5,000 they had collected during the day. Captain Ben Willingham, whose committee has maintained the lead throughout the movement, brought in the largest committee report of $2,253, while Captain Daves followed close behind with $1,426.

Large Subscriptions.

Among the large subscriptions announced was one of $1,000 from the Atlantic Coal & Ice Co., given by Ernest Woodruff. The Atlanta Milling Company donated $600. Thomas L. Cooper and A. L. Cuesta both wired amounts from Florida, the former giving $500 and the latter $100.

A. G. Rhodes sent in a subscription of $1,000, and W. T. Healy gave $200 for himself and his two sons. Additional subscriptions were announced from A. P. Stewart, W. E. Wimpy and Dr. Floyd McRae.

Colonel Robert J. Lowry announced an additional $300, making his total subscription $6,000.

The necessary amount which had by that time been reduced to $10,947, was then lessened by another donation of $500 from W. Woods White.

The Atlanta Oil & Fertilizer Co. took care of $500 of this amount, while Colonel McAllister, of the Durand Company, who Mr. Orr said "had come up to get the rent," instead said that the house would stand for the $47 and bring the amount down to an even $10,000. This is by no means the only donation given by Durand's, something like $600 having been donated previously.

With $10,000 still to go, Chairman Orr sprang the surprise of the evening. He said that in response to telephone calls sent out early in the day the five interests combined in the movement had pledged themselves to make up the necessary amount, these interests comprising the Boys' Club, the Y. W. C. A., the Tech Y. M. C. A., the Central Y. M. C. A., and the negro Y. M. C. A.

Then the necessary sum had been completed.

When speeches had been made by representatives of the five interests, Captain James W. English arose and said that lest there should be some shrinkage in the fund he would increase his subscription to $5,000, so as to make the $600,000 absolutely sure.

The meeting was closed with a benediction by Dr. Dunbar Ogden.

EFFORT TO STEAL $50,000,000

Alleged in Indictments by U. S. Grand Jury.

Seven Men Indicted at Detroit For Alleged Plot to Secure 48,000 Acres of Coal Lands in Alaska---Defendants Deny That There Has Been Fraud.

Detroit, Mich., March 6.—Government investigation into alleged Alaskan coal land frauds involving approximately 48,000 acres of land valued at more than $50,000,000, resulted in the issuance tonight of an indictment by the local federal grand jury, charging seven individuals with conspiracy against the United States.

The defendants are Wilbur W. McAlpine, Albert H. Roehm, George W. Ross, Frank D. Andrus, Arthur L. Holmes, and McCurdy C. Lobeau, all of Detroit, and John M. Bushnell, of Chicago. The foregoing are officials of a company known as the Michigan-Alaska Development Company.

Contention of Government.

The contention of the government is that the defendants conspired to induce between 200 and 300 individuals to become stockholders in the Michigan-Alaska Company by making "fraudulent and fictitious locations of certain Alaska coal lands," thereby violating the land entry laws of 1910, which made it illegal for more than four persons to form a company for locating Alaska coal lands and taking out patents on more than 640 acres.

It is alleged the several stockholders of the coal lands were led to believe that they were locating the lands for their exclusive use, "but in truth and in fact for the use and benefit of the seven defendants and the development company."

The Michigan-Alaska Development Company was organized under the laws of Arizona. W. W. McAlpine is the president. The coal lands involved are situated at Juneau, Alaska, and several contiguous tracts in the vicinity of Homer, upon the westerly end of Kenai peninsula bordering on the Cook inlet.

Hundreds of Claimants.

The claims are said to have been located by about 200 Detroit and Michigan residents and a hundred other claimants from New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Seattle and other western points.

It is declared by the defendants that strictly individual entry of the lands has been made and that the Michigan-Alaska company was organized as a benefit association for the purpose of aiding the stockholders or claimants to better protect their title and develop their lands. They deny the stock was to be sold and insist that the corporation was not formed for the exploitation of the coal lands in the general market.

District Attorney Watson announced tonight that he will prepare for an early trial of the defendants. The penalty for conviction on a charge of conspiracy against the government of this nature is two years' imprisonment or a fine not more than $10,000.

90 PERSONS BURN IN A PICTURE SHOW

And Forty Others Are Injured---Horror Occurs in Russia.

St. Petersburg, March 6.—Ninety persons, many of whom were children, were burned to death and forty others injured in a fire that destroyed a moving picture theater at Bologoie Sunday.

Reports of the disaster were received here today.

The flames broke out while the exhibition was in progress, and quickly enveloped the building, cutting off every avenue of escape.

Futile attempts at rescue were made by those who happened to be close to the exits, when the fire started, and by those from the outside, but the fury of the flames drove them back before they could reach the shrieking victims, who in their efforts to get out of the building fought desperately among themselves.

Bologoie is a small place in the southern part of Novgorod province on the Mikolai railroad.

CATHOLIC CHILDREN TO CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

Detroit, Mich., March 6.—In an effort to more strictly enforce a law issued by the pope in the thirteenth century requiring parents to send their children to Catholic schools wherever possible, the bishops of the province of Cincinnati have issued a letter providing a penalty for the non-observance of this rule. The letter was issued by direction of the pope, and was read in the 175 churches of the Detroit diocese for the first time Sunday.

The letter says:

"We direct that in the future no confessor having faculties in the province absolve parents who require their sons and daugthers to attend non-Catholic schools, unless such parents, when going to confession, promise that they will send their children to a Catholic school at the time to be fixed by the confessor, or agree that they will abide by the decision of the bishop after the case has been referred to him. Under these conditions, then, the care of parents who send their children to non-Catholic schools are reserved to the bishop."

The letter is signed by the archbishop of Cincinnati and the bishops of Indianapolis, Grand Rapids, Covington, Detroit, Louisville, Fort Wayne, Columbus and Cleveland.

$100,000 STOLEN FROM AGED MAN

Broker Bancroft Robbed in Safety Deposit Office.

As He Was Preparing to Deposit His Rich Securities Two Crooks Managed to Substitute Worthless Paper for His Package of Valuables.

New York, March 6.—Aaron Bancroft, Sr., a broker, 86 years old, discovered today that he was robbed last Thursday afternoon of securities worth approximately $100,000 in the vestibule of the Produce Exchange Safety Deposit and Storage Company.

Last Thursday Mr. Bancroft, as has been his habit for twenty-five years, placed securities worth that day about $100,000 in a large envelope, 10 by 14 inches, tied with red tape, and bearing the firm's name in the corner. Alone he walked the two hundred feet from his office to the Produce Exchange, thence down a flight of steps from the street level entrance to the vaults.

How the Trick Was Turned.

Just as Mr. Bancroft was about to turn the corner at the end of the corridor into the vaults a tall man came running around the corner and collided with him. The shock threw Mr. Bancroft off his feet, and in falling he dropped the envelope.

That was the cue for an undersized young man who had been leaning against the corridor wall. He stepped up to Mr. Bancroft, assisted him to his feet and was solicitous to tuck under his arm an envelope. Mr. Bancroft, of course, thought it was the envelope that fell. He went on to deposit it in his box as usual.

Today when George Bancroft, his son, unlocked the box he found that the only envelope there contained three old newspapers. A clever substitution had been effected when the elder Bancroft was upset in the vault corridor.

The robbers, it is believed, knew on what day and hour it was the firm's custom to deposit its securities. They knew that Mr. Bancroft habitually carried them in an envelope of certain appearance, for they provided themselves in advance with so close a duplicate that it deceived even the man who of all others should have best known its appearance.

Easy to Hypothecate.

The certificates, easily susceptible of hypothecation, included 100 shares of Lehigh Valley, 320 shares of Smelters, 30 shares of New York Central, 200 shares of Brooklyn Rapid Transit, 500 Distillers Securities, 60 shares of Steel common, 10 shares of Atchison, 30 shares of American Beet Sugar, 40 shares of Amalgamated Copper, and 100 shares of Missouri Pacific.

So bold a robbery in daylight, in the very heart of the city's financial district, shocked the police. Years ago Inspector Byrnes had drawn a dead line across the city at Fulton street, below which he ordered that no crook or pickpocket should go on even an innocent errand, under pain of instant trouble with the police.

Having tried the order, the underworld ultimately obeyed, and for years the financial district was the safest place in the world for a man with large sums of money on his person. Bank runners and messenger boys ran about the streets, their pockets literally stuffed with bills of large denominations.

Close Relations.

(From The Washington Star.)

"You advise that man's constituents to stand by him?"

"Yep," replied Farmer Corntossel. "I advise 'em to stand by close enough to watch everything he does."

THE SWINE OR THE FLOWER?

Ah me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty,
Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred,
Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;
Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of lard!"
I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first
One glistening mass of roses pure and white,
With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed;
And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight,
The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene,
Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLENE!"

TWO LIVES LOST IN HOTEL FIRE

Loch Crystal Hotel at Lakeview, N. C., Completely Destroyed.

Lake View, N. C., March 6.—The new Loch Crystal hotel, a tourist resort, just opened this season, was destroyed by fire early this morning, and two guests lost their lives in the flames. The dead are:

MISS ANNA M. BARNES, New York.
MRS. G. C. PETTIS, New Haven, Conn.

Howard Whitmore, a clerk, and Mrs. W. E. Youland, wife of the manager received serious injuries and burns.

The fire was discovered about 5 o'clock this morning and the flames so quickly spread through the large frame building that all efforts to check them was futile and the only thought was to save the lives of the twenty-five guests who were stopping in the building. Miss Anna M. Barnes, of New York, who was on the third floor, could not be rescued, and was burned to death, the body not yet having been recovered from the smoking ruins.

Mrs. G. C. Pettis, a very old woman, of New Haven, Conn., while being rescued by her son, C. M. Pettis, sustained serious injuries and died from the injuries and the shock an hour later.

Howard Whitmore, the clerk in the hotel, by his tireless efforts and his splendid bravery, saved many of the guests. He is now confined to his bed from injuries received. E. S. Woley, of Detroit, was another who deserved special mention for his bravery and daring in the work of saving the lives of the guests. All of the guests who escaped were only partially clad and lost all their belongings, including a large amount of money.

The homes of the village have been thrown open to the sufferers, and their needs have been supplied by the people here. Mrs. W. E. Youland, wife of the manager, received serious injuries, but will probably recover. The loss in about $30,000, partially covered by insurance.

HARDWICK MEMBER RULES COMMITTEE

Adamson Will Head Interstate Commerce.

Ways and Means Democrats Getting Things Ready for the Extra Session---Tentative List of the Chairmanships Is Announced.

Washington, March 6.—The rules committee, one of the most pwerful of the house committees of the sixty-second congress, with Representative Robert L. Henry, of Waco, Texas, at its head, was formally created by the new house ways and means committee at its first meeting today. The following were announced as the seven democratic members of the committee:

Robert Lee Henry, of Texas; Edward W. Pou, Smithfield, N. C.; Thomas W. Hardwick, Sandersville, Ga.; Augustus O. Stanley, Henderson, Ky.; Finis J. Garrett, Dresden, Tenn.; Martin D. Foster, Olney, Ill., and Matthew R. Denver, Wilmington, Ohio.

The committee will consist of eleven members. The four republican members will be chosen by the republicans later, along with the other republican personnel of the committees of the new house.

Henry to Be Chairman.

The ways and means committee, which is charged, under caucus dictum, with the function of selecting the committees, is not empowered to name the chairman, but it recommended to the new rules committee that it elect Mr. Henry as chairman, which is tantamount to designation at this time.

The members of the rules committee were named in the order of their seniority of service. Messrs. Hardwick and Stanley have served in congress the same period, and the service of Messrs. Foster and Denver has been identical, and to choose the priority of rank of these, in each case, the members of the ways and means committee drew lots, resulting in the order given.

Chairman Henry has been elected to eight congresses; was once mayor of Texarkana, and assistant attorney general of Texas, and has performed notable service on the house judiciary committee. The committee will meet tomorrow morning to confer over its preliminary work.

As to Tariff Revision.

There was some discussion by the committee of the program of tariff revision, but the committee is deliberating carefully on that, which is the greatest task before it, and which it expects to complete in time to reprt to congress soon after it convenes on April 4.

The democratic members of the committee realize that there is considerable difference of opinion among the house membership in their party as to the methods of revising the tariff, some favoring a wholesale bill and others schedule by schedule, in accord with the views of leaders like Messrs. Clark and Underwood. There is no conclusion yet as to whether the schedules are to be tacked on to the Canadian reciprocity bill so that a vote in the senate against the schedule revision would be striking a blow at the reciprocity agreement, though the bill will carry out the terms of the agreement in good faith.

The committee has not yet passed upon the committee chairmanship beyond those of the ways and means and rules, but in many instances more or less complete assurances of individual members of the ways and means committee have made the chairmanships largely a matter of ratification by the formal action of the committee.

Tentative List of Chairmanships.

These constitute a tentative list of chairmanships, some of them being fully assured:

Appropriations, Fitzerald, New York; ways and means, Underwood, Alabama; rules, Henry, Texas; judiciary, Clayton, Alabama; interstate commerce, Adamson, Georgia; foreign affairs, Flood, Virginia; military affairs, Hay, Virginia; public lands, Robinson, Arkansas; naval affairs, Padgett, Tennessee; insular affairs, Jones, Virginia; Indian affairs, Stephens, Texas; postoffice or territories, Lloyd, Missouri; banking and currency, Pujo, Louisiana; pensions, Richardson, Alabama; printing, Finley, South Carolina; agriculture, Lever, South Carolina, or Beall, Texas; census, Wilson, Pennsylvania; immigration, Burnett, Alabama; industrial arts and expositions, Heflin, Alabama; invalid pensions, Ansberry, Ohio, or Lindsey, New York; irrigation, Smith, Texas; rivers and canals, Korbly, Indiana; private land claims, Carter, Oklahoma; mileage, Denver, Ohio, or Collier, Mississipi; Pacific railroads, Slayden, Texas; patents, Sulzer, New York; manufactures, Johnson, South Carolina; District of Columbia affairs, Johnson, Kentucky; claims, Goldfogle, New York; election of president, vice president, etc., Rucker, Missouri; merchant marine, Clark, Florida; militia, Floyd, Arkansas, or Ashbrook, Ohio; mines and mining, Foster, Illinois; public buildings, Sheppard, Texas; civil service reform, Godwin, North Carolina; revision of the laws, Watkins, Louisiana; rivers and harbors, Moon, Tennessee, or Ransdell, Louisiana, or Sparkman, Florida; territories, Lloyd, Missouri, if not given the postoffice; war claims, Sims, Tennessee.

WESTERN UNION STOPS SERVICE OF GAMBLERS

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 6.—Word was received from New York headquarters of the Western Union today by County Prosecutor Hunt, to the effect that the company's rules deny the service of race track information to hand-book gamblers. The message was in response to a notice to the company that unless the hand-book service ceased, the Cincinnati grand jury would be asked to make an investigation, in connection with the gambling probe now under way. The Western Union promises to stop the service to gamblers.

CROWDS BROUGHT TO CHURCHES BY NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Binghamton, N. Y., March 6.—The churches of this city have just made an unusual demonstration of the value of newspaper advertising. As the result of an advertising campaign of just one day an average increase in the attendance in the churches of about 25 per cent was brought about.

The scheme was participated in by all the Protestant churches where the clergymen are conducting a special movement to increase attendance at the services and fill empty pews.

On Saturday nearly all the merchants by agreement gave up their regular advertising space in the newspapers to the City Ministerial Association, which filled the papers with display advertising, urging the public to attend church. As a result every church was filled to overflowing yesterday.

PLOT TO MURDER PRESIDENT TAFT

Charged to Two Men Who Are Under Arrest at Spokane.

Spokane, Wash., March 6.—Captured just when plans for assassinating Mayor N. S. Pratt are thought to have almost reached maturity, John Steele and Stuart Moffatt, now in the city jail, are considered by the police as the murderers of Captain John T. Sullivan and accomplices in a plot to kill President Taft.

This is the gist of a statement of Martin J. Burns, captain of detectives, issued today after a conference with Chief of Police Doust.

The arrests of the two men came Friday night.

"Until Friday night,' said Captain Burns, "the plans were to wait until after the city election to kill the mayor. That night our men heard Steele make his report to Moffatt after a visit to the latter home, in which he said the house was guarded day and night.

"He told the group around him another night he was 'high enough up' in anarchistic circles to know that President Taft would be killed as soon as he left Washington after congress closed."

MORMONS TOO ACTIVE IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, March 6.—Home Secretary Churchill stated in the house of commons today that the attention of the government had been attracted to recent allegations of Mormon activity among the women of this country. While he had no official information to support the assertions that young girls were being induced to emigrate to Utah, there was no doubt, the secretary said, that the matter was causing deep concern, and he proposed to probe it exhaustively.

WAR ON REGULARITY BY THE INSURGENTS

Pinchot and Garfield Urge Followers to Defy G. O. P. Machine.

Akron, Ohio, March 6.—Over 500 republicans, mostly progressives, in attendance at the Lincoln banquet here tonight, heard Gifford Pinchot, seconded by James R. Garfield, of Cleveland, and A. L. Garford, of Elyria, Ohio, declare in their speeches for independence of party rather than regularity in order to become free of corporate control of the nation's resources and of the republican party.

"Whatever is right and vital in the republican party today is progressive," said Mr. Pinchot in his address. "Whatever is not progressive is dying or dead. The republican party cannot live half dead and half alive. It cannot continue half reactionary and half progressive. We shall live if we free ourselves from the gangrene of blind devotion to things that have gone by."

Mr. Pinchot declared that the republican party cannot afford to risk its chance of victory in 1912 merely upon the hope of democratic blunders.

"Time was when that was reasonably safe," he said. "Today it is a dependence distinctly less reliable than in the past. Also we need a larger issue. In 1912 the nominee himself will be more than half the platform. He must have certain indispensable qualifications. He must be a progressive and stand for popular government."

YOU MAY HAVE TO PAY TAXES ON PROPERTY YOU HAVE SOLD

Mr. Taxpayer, whatever property you may have owned on or before February 1, 1911, you must pay taxes on for this year.

It doesn't make any difference if you sold it on February 2, the case is unaltered and the tax on it must be paid.

Comptroller General William A. Wright announced Monday that away back in March the comptroller general, the governor and the treasurer got together one fine day and decided that February 1 should be the day fixed for the valuation of property. For several years past March 30 has been the date.

Of course, that fact was not made public in advance because by that the very purpose of the law authorizing the fixing of a day for valuation of property would be defeated. If warned in advance that all property held on a certain day of the year would be subject to taxation for the entire year, wouldn't it be a lead pipe cinch to unload any portion of it you wished upon the other fellow and saddle him with the taxes for the year?

So figure out how much property you had on February 1, 1911, and make ready to pay taxes thereon.

BILL RECORD BROKEN BY THE 61ST CONGRESS

33,015 Bills and 1,500 Resolutions Were Introduced.

Washington, March 6.—Breaking all records by some thousands, the total number of public and private bills introduced in the house during three sessions of the congress just closed was 33,015, besides 1,500 resolutions of various kinds. The highest number of bills introduced in any democratic congress so far was 9,800 in the fifty-third congress, the increase in number since then reflecting the expansion of business of the government, particularly along insular lines.

Turkish Solons Fight.

Constantinople, March 6.—A stormy scene occurred in the chamber of deputies today. At the same time a member of the committee coming up from behind, boxed Kemal's ears.

Bishop Denies Criticising Taft.

Xenia, Ohio, March 6.—Bishop D. F. He stated further that he was a supporter of President Taft and that he has never spoken against him at any time either privately or publicly.

SCHOOL "FRILLS" GIVEN A RESPITE

Ordinance Laid on the Table Pending Investigation of Education Board.

The school frill resolutions, as they are called, were not acted upon by council yesterday afternoon.

The report from the special committee and the board of education was read. It stated that after a full discussion of the resolutions calling for the abolishing of the departments of music, physical culture and drawing, it was believed that such departments should be retained.

Councilman Nutting, who has been leading the fight on the frills, stated that a special committee had been appointed to fully investigate the school departments complained of, and he moved that the whole matter lie on the table until that committee was ready to make a report. This motion was adopted by a vote of 17 to 11.

REQUEST OF RAILROADS DENIED BY COMMISSION

Roads Not Allowed Voluntarily to Suspend Proposed Rate Advances.

Washington, March 6.—Denial of the request of the railways of official classification territory that they be permitted voluntarily to suspend proposed advances in class freight rates from March 15 until November 1 next, was made by the interstate commerce commission today.

In the decisions announced in the great rate cases ten days ago, the commission directed that the proposed tariffs advancing rates be annulled on or before March 10. If this direction were not followed, the commission announced that on that date it would issue an order cancelling the rates and putting into effect for at least two years the existing rates.

It was suggested to the commission that the carriers in official classification territory be permitted to suspend voluntarily the tariffs proposing advances from March 15 until November 1 next, in order that they might have opportunity to ascertain the general results of this fiscal year's business. Their contention was that this year's business might show a falling off of the revenues of 1910, which would afford them an opportunity again to ask the commission to consider an advance in rates, perhaps some time late next autumn, when they would be enabled to make a better showing in support of the request than they made in the recent cases.

COMPOSER MASCAGNI WINS FROM LIEBLER

New York Theatrical Man Is Convicted of Contempt of Court.

Milan, Italy, March 6.—The decision of the civil tribunal, which heard the case of Mascagni, the composer, and Sonzogna, the publisher of "Ysobel," against Liebler & Co., of New York, was announced today and generally favors the plaintiff.

Liebler & Co. are convicted of contempt of court and judged to be at fault in the breaking of a contract with Mascagni. The New Yorkers are condemned to pay damages in the sum of $5,000 to Sonzogna and the costs of the trial. Mascagni is definitely assigned the $15,000 already received from the defendants, but the court refuses his application for an additional $5,000.

Oh. for Direct Vote.

Columbus, Ohio, March 6.— The Ohio house of representatives today adopted a resolution making formal application for the calling of the federal constitutional convention to secure the adoption of an amendment providing for direct election of United States senators.

These Rich "Mignon" Satin Dresses And Tailor-made Suits Are The Newest Fashions In Paris

Black and Navy Satin---not like any other Satin you've ever known. "Mignon" Satin is a DOUBLE WEAVE--the lustrous, glossy face is backed by BOMBAZINE--a firm twilled DRESS FABRIC that has an interesting history. In 1575 it was presented by the Dutch elders to the English Parliament with the prayer to have the "SEARCH AND SEAL" of them to their own exclusive use.

BOMBAZINE came to our shores just before the REVOLUTIONARY period--and was the cloth of quality.

In years the introduction of other weaves crowded BOMBAZINE out.

And now it comes to us with a soft, shimmering SATIN face in the form of Dresses and Tailored Suits of rare beauty.

These garments are the sensation of the day.

The plain ones are severe--but none the less seductive. Their simple elegance arouses your quick buying-thought.

Designers have taken the widest and wildest liberty with the ones enhanced with trimmings.

Some bear beaded bands---the beads caught on net. Others have silk braid on collar, cuffs, front and skirt. Such braid? Widths that take away your breath. Daring but not without the element of daintiness. Some of them are appliqued on white and strikingly applied. Hand-embroidered lingerie collars create the pretty "relief" touch. We can't describe these Dresses and Suits. You must come and see them. They are the supreme novelties of the moment. Prices range from $35 to $85.

CHARGE OF CORRUPTION IN CANADA PARLIAMENT

Member Accused of Defrauding the Government of $1,000.

Ottawa, Ont., March 6.—A charge of corruption was made today in the Canadian house against a member of parliament, and an investigation was ordered.

Edouard Blendin, French nationalist member for a Quebec constituency declared he had reason to believe that Adelard Lanctet, liberal representative for Richileau, had "fraudulently permitted to be taken and used, government paint, varnish and labor," on his house at Sorel, and that as a result the government has been defrauded of a thousand dollars. He read affidavits from workmen and overseers in support of his charge.

Mr. Lanctet said he courted inquiry, that a proper bill had been rendered and paid. Sir Wilfried Laurier approved of an inquiry being held and both members left the chamber. One of them will not return, for according to Canadian practice, if a man fails to substantiate such a charge he resigns his seat, and if such a charge is substantiated the culpable member is disqualified from sitting further.

Wood Ayres Assassinated.

Glasgow, Ky., March 6.—Wood Ayres, under $15,000 bond for the alleged killing of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lou Walthal, last October, was shot and killed from ambush near Mount Union church, in Allen county, late today. More than seventy-five shots were fired at Ayres, it is said, and his body, found in the road, where he fell, was terribly riddled.

Separate Trials Granted.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 6.—Separate trials were granted by the court in the so-called Night Rider cases, in which a half dozen men, including some of the wealthiest and most prominent men in Lyon, Caldwell, Trigg and Christian counties are charged with having participated in the raid upon Hopkinsville in December, 1907.

Two Negroes Not Confirmed.

Washington, March 6.—Nominations for seventy-one offices, of which sixty-one are postoffices, failed of confirmation in the last session of congress. Two negro appointees head the list. They are William H. Lewis, of Boston, assistant attorney general, and James C. Napier, of Tennessee, register of the treasury.

NOTED PRISONERS FACE LONG FIGHT

Greene and Gaynor Still in the Toils.

Government Believes the Two Prisoners Have $1,000,000 Each Stored Away, and Hard Legal Battle Will Follow the Hearing of Today.

Firm in the belief that Benjamin Greene and John F. Gaynor have in their possession large sums of money, over a million each, the United States government is ready to start one of the hardest and longest legal fights in the history of the federal courts to keep the noted prisoners in the toils of the law.

The two prisoners will appear before Commissioner Colquitt this morning to take the pauper's oath, in order to escape the payment of the $575,000 fine imposed by the government. As they have already served their sentence, they would be freed, if allowed to swear off their fine.

Just what steps the government will take this morning are not known.

District Attorney Tate may warn them not to take the oath, or he may allow them to take it without protest, and then start proceedings against them for perjury, demanding a large bond.

The government knows that the two men made large sums of money out of the Savannah harbor contracts, and is of the opinion that they have hidden away over one million dollars each.

Schooner Wellfleet Aground.

Norfolk, Va., March 6.—The three-masted Boston schooner Wellfleet, Captain W. E. Rutledge, from Baltimore to Charleston, S. C., with phosphate rock, stranded early today on the outer Diamond shoals, off the Hatteras coast. The crew, consisting of captain and seven men, abandoned the vessel and started ashore.

Judge Lowell Dead.

Boston, March 6.—Judge Francis Lowell, of the United States circuit court, died suddenly today at his home here. Judge Lowell's public career covered a period of twenty-two years and included service in the Boston city council, the lower branch of the legislature and thirteen years on the federal bench. Judge Lowell was born in this city in 1855 and was graduated from Harvard in 1876.

CLOUDY WEATHER SCHEDULED TODAY

For Next Few Days Atlanta Will Enjoy Touch of Spring.

Atlanta and vicinity will enjoy a period of spring-like weather for the next few days, announced Weather Observer von Herrmann yesterday afternoon.

However, the spring-like weather bids fair to be marred today by a period of unsettled and cloudy weather. It may rain, too, although the weather man did not say it would. Generally cloudy and unsettled weather prevailed all over the United States yesterday and the mercury went as high as 74 degrees in Atlanta in spite of the clouds.

HE WAS THE OBJECT OF CONSIDERABLE CURIOSITY.

"He is a wise man who knows when he has gone far enough and stops in the vicinity of that particular point," said the Gopher. "The accompanying illustration by the cartoonist will illustrate what I mean.

"A few nights ago the young man whom this is supposed to represent went to the theater with a young lady, and while the play progressed he kept tugging at his trousers—you know how it is, kept pulling them up to prevent 'bagging' at the knees. Well, behold the result. As he walked out he wondered why all the people stared."

CARROLLTON RATES BEFORE COMMISSION

Interstate Commerce Commission Will Begin Session Today.

Judge J. C. Clements, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, will begin the hearing on the petition brought by the board of trade of Carrollton against the Central and connecting railroads in which unjust rate discrimination against that town is charged, at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the federal court room.

It is charged in the petition that Carrollton formerly enjoyed the same rates as Cedartown, Newnan and other points in the territory, but that since the Central acquired the Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus road the competition has ceased, and discrimination in rates is practiced. Especial complaint is made of the rates to Carrollton from points in New York, Massachusetts, Missouri, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Tennessee and Alabama.

The charges of the petitioners are lodged against the Central, the Southern, the Mobile and Ohio, the Atlanta and West Point, the Louisville and Nashville, and other roads.

The petitioners are represented by Attorneys C. E. Roop, of Carrollton, and Watkins & Latimer, of Atlanta.

In the complaint against the rates the board of trade is joined by the mayor and council, the Roop Hardware Company, and W. O. Baskins, all of Carrollton.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR MISSING WIFE

No Cause for Her Disappearance, Says the Husband.

Strangely disappearing between Kirkwood and Atlanta, sending no word of her whereabouts for more than two weeks, Mrs. Mary Paschal, of 232 East Ellis street, is being sought by the police on the request of her husband.

While Mr. Paschal was at work on Friday, February 24, his wife packed her trunk and suit case and left for the home of her mother in Kirkwood. She stayed there one night, and on Saturday left to return to her family. From that time on nothing has been heard of her. Mr. and Mrs. Paschal have been married nearly four years, and their life has been very happy. The husband is greatly worried over his wife's absence and is at a loss to explain it. There is no cause, he says, for her strange behavior.

THEIR PAY CUT, SOLONS TO QUIT

Governor ColquittScores Texas Assembly.

At End of Sixty-Day Session the Legislators Decide to Go Home—After That Period They Would Only Receive $2 a Day.

Austin, Texas, March 6.—Quoting the parable of the slothful servant, Governor Colquitt sent a message of censure to the Texas legislature today following the adoption of a resolution in the lower house providing for adjournment sine die next Saturday, when the pay of the legislators drops from $5 to $2 a day. For the first sixty days of a legislative session the law provides members of the assembly shall receive $5 a day, but after that time the smaller amount. If an extra session is called, $5 is allowed as the per diem for thirty days.

Governor Colquitt, in his message, refers to an accumulation of pending legislation and, declaring that all public servants are probably underpaid, illustrates with the story of the two servants.

"The one who magnified his office by the profitable employment of his trust for his Master's benefit," the governor relates, "was rewarded for his faithfulness, whereas, the slothful servant who buried his talent and did nothing to magnify the office or the trust imposed in him, lost the esteem of his Master and was unworthy of further confidence.

"No legislature of Texas has assembled in recent years with so little demanded of it by the people in the way of legislation," the message continues. "The demand of the democratic platform is that 'the people shall not be annoyed by constant political agitation,' but that they should be relieved therefrom. In consequence the legislature is earnestly urged to at once consider and pass bills in which the people are intereested."

DENIES HE SHOT AT BOY OVER MOTHER'S HEAD

Bailiff Lancaster Makes Statement About the Charges Against Him.

Carl M. Lancaster, bailiff for Justice of the Peace Puckett, has issued a statement in regard to his serving of a warrant on Robert Duncan, of 581 Marietta street, Thursday morning, in which he denies the charges of misconduct that have been made against him, and which caused his arrest Sunday. His case will be tried tomorrow before Recorder Broyles.

Lancaster states that he went to the Duncan home to serve the warrant, which had been authorized by the grand jury of Cobb county, and that the boy, who is only 17 years old, attempted to escape. "I did not shoot over the head of the mother at her son. I did not shoot at all in the building where I was attempting to make the arrest. I did shoot at the ground in State alley for the purpose of stopping the boy.

"The boy outran me and escaped, and I have not once visited the place where I went to make the arrest, nor have I said to any one that the boy was under arrest. It is not of infrequent occurrence for an officer to shoot at a fleeing culprit, and yet I was not utilizing the legal privilege delegated to one where the emergency arises on such an occasion. I tried to do my duty in as decent a manner as possible, and believe that investigation will establish this."

W. R. Williams states that he was with Mr. Lancaster at the time and can vouch for the truth of his statements.

MAIL CARRIERS TIMED; ALL STOPS RECORDED

A general order from the postoffice department reaching Atlanta Sunday night was put in effect yesterday morning, and its rigid enforcement by Superintendent Barry, under directions of Postmaster McKee, caused a slight delay in the delivery of mail in some residential sections of the city. By the order all first, second, third and fourth-class mail handled in the city will have to be weighed and counted. Each carrier under the order will be timed and the stops he makes will be recorded.

PETITIONS BEING SENT FOR SOLDIER'S PARDON

Former Atlanta Comrades of Charles Pendleton Active in His Behalf.

A general meeting for the purpose of arousing interest in the case of Charles M. Pendleton, the lieutenant of Filipino constabulary, who was convicted for killing a native and who was formerly a member of the Atlanta Grays, was held in the company room of Company K, Fifth regiment, at the Auditorium-Armory last night.

The meeting was opened by Captain Charles Stokes. Captain W. C. Massey, who was elected chairman of the movement at a previous meeting, made a short speech, in which he outlined the work being done to obtain the pardon of the sentenced man, and spoke of the petitions already sent.

According to the plans made petitions will be sent to the governor general in the Philippines at regular intervals. These petitions are being signed by people all over the United States who either knew Pendleton or know the facts in the case. It is confidently expected that the showing made by them will have a good effect upon the authorities.

CLAIMS SHE KILLED IN DEFENSE OF HONOR

Whiteville, N. C., March 6.—The first step was taken in the Hayes trial here today when a full jury was selected from a special venire of 200. This is the case in which Mrs. N. M. Hayes is charged with the murder of Robert M. Floyd, whom she admits she killed in her own home in Mount Tabor on the evening of February 4, but claims that it was in defense of her honor; and her husband and his 14-year-old brother are charged with being accessories before the fact. The hearing of evidence will begin the first thing tomorrow morning, but with the large number of witnesses to be examined it is not believed that the case can possibly be completed before Thursday.

The month spent in prison has had its effect on all three of the defendants, especially Mrs. Hayes, who is very pale, and appears to be rather dejected.

HOPPER'S BROADWAY CHORUS FIXTURE OF "MATINEE IDOL"

DeWolf Hopper, Louise Dresser and the unusually tuneful music of "A Matinee Idol" form a combination hard to beat, but—

What was on the lips of probably nine out of every ten of those who heard that musical comedy as presented at the Grand last night, was the question, "How did he do it?" For DeWolf Hopper has accomplished the heretofore impossible, and taken out upon a road tour a real Broadway chorus. And, be it whispered softly, to get that chorus it is said he had to kidnap it bodily and get it out of New York before it had half an idea where it was going.

There have been comedians equally as mirth-producing as DeWolf Hopper, actresses just as jolly as Louise Dresser, and music just as tuneful seen and heard by many Atlanta audiences, but never before had one witnessed on the stage of the Grand a genuine Broadway chorus. The chorus, while undoubtedly, individually and collectively, prettier than any ever seen in Atlanta, is more remarkable for its dancing than for its looks. Dressed in the most striking combinations of colors, the long-skirted girls at times move so rapidly as to seem more in the midst of a dazzling whirl than a set dance.

DeWolf Hopper himself is at his best in "A Matinee Idol," and that is enough to make any play a success.

In addition, Miss Dresser is given opportunity to render some unusually catchy songs, and around the two has been built up a splendidly balanced cast, with possibly only one member whose work could be characterized as indifferent.

Incidentally, probably the funniest five minutes of the whole performance was during Mr. Hopper's curtain call between the acts. Ridiculous in the extreme, it kept the audience in a steady laughter.

"A Matinee Idol" is away above the average so far as fun and music go and as to the principals and cast—and, in addition, brings to Atlanta a chorus that in looks, singing and dancing is unsurpassable.

It will be seen at the Grand at two performances today, matinee and night.

Adelaide Thurston.
(At the Orpheum.)

Bewitching and charming and bubbling over with enthusiasm, Miss Adelaide Thurston, aided and abetted by an unusually competent company, immensely pleased the audience which witnessed the opening performance of that delightfully humorous farcical comedy, "Miss Ananias," at the Orpheum last night.

A perfectly harmless fabrication on the part of a woman regarding her age and her looks, the color scheme of her hair and her eyes, constitutes the central idea of "Miss Ananias," which is of itself one of the brightest and cleanest plays of the present time, and when to this is added the exquisite charm of Miss Thurston, there you have a combination irresistibly attractive and wonderfully successful.

Lovers of the best in farcical comedy and admirers of the charms which Miss Thurston possesses will do well to visit the Orpheum this afternoon or tonight.

ADELAIDE THURSTON,
Who appeared at the Orpheum in "Miss Ananias" last night.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

There is not one dull moment at the Forsyth this week from the time two clever dancers whirl upon the stage as Act No 1 until the last animal actor has vanished into the wings in the final number of the program.

And speaking of dancers, the two who open the bill, traveling under the name of Clemons and Dean, are about the best ever seen in Atlanta. They set a fast and furious pace for the other acts. The woman is a neat dresser and a corking good dancer, and you don't find any better on the stage than the man, especially in his "drunk" scene. The act is a pippin, sixty seconds to the minute.

The Dagwell Sisters, in changes of costumes and songs to suit three periods of American history, present an interesting act, which "takes" with the public.

"Jack the Giant Killer," offering George Auger, eight feet tall, and two midgets around the neighborhood of three feet, have a novelty that will prove a drawing attraction every day of the week.

Then comes Marie Fenton, in a cyclone of lively songs, some of them very lively, that find immediate favor with the folks in front, and bring her back to the stage time and time again. In dress and voice Marie is "present" with a capital "P." Honest, though, how could a girl fail to make good with such a dress to boast as the one she opens in? Once she may have had "just a simple little gown. Just have a look at her now."

"The Police Inspector," telling a story of the third degree, and the weakening of a swell speculator, who in a moment of financial desperation had killed his partner, is cleverly acted, all the parts being well taken.

Barry and Phelan open with a line of talk that is about as breezy and as new as you hear these days. If there is anything new in the joke line in the world this act shows it to you.

The closing act, Carlisle's dogs, presenting a sketch, with animals as actors, performed a feat that Jack and Violet Kelly, Dr. Carl Herman, Robledillo, and a host of other human actors have been unable to "put over." They stopped a restless Monday matinee audience, glued people in front to their seats, and kept them there until the curtain. The "drunk dog" and the "policeman" shared honors with the musicians.

"Graustark."
(At the Lyric.)

In melodramatic form, but at the same time quite acceptable, "Graustark," the story of a love behind a throne, from the novel by George Barr McCutcheon, opened a week's engagement at the Lyric last evening before a large audience.

The story is unfolded in five acts, opening with the arrival in Graustark of the Yankee and his friend. Princess Yetive is well depicted by Miss Chrystal Benson, the role of Grenfall Lorry, the wealthy young American, is taken care of by Charles Bartling. Arthur M. Finn plays the part of Harry Anguish, Lorry's friend, and his humor is one of the features of the play.

As Countess Dagmar, with whom Anguish falls in love, Miss Marjorie North is winsome and pretty. For looks you must make a bow to Miss Allene Durano, who plays the inconspicuous role of a lady-in-waiting to Yetive. J. H. Lewis is perfect as the dignified minister of police, and the real wicked villain, Prince Gabriel, in the person of Louis Epstein, was given his full meed of hisses by the gallery.

French Grand Opera.
(At the Grand.)

M. Fontaine, the principal tenor of the French Grand Opera Company, which is to appear at the Grand opera house for four nights and Saturday matinee, commencing Wednesday, March 8, bears the distinction of being the only opera singer to hold one of the coveted ribbons of the Legion d'Honneur, which he acquired through distinguished services with the French army in Algeria a few years since.

Grace Van Studdiford.
(At the Grand.)

A sensational song hit is among the features of the Parisian comic opera bouffe, "The Paradies of Mahomet," in which Grace Van Studdifodr will appear at the Grand next week. It is entitled, "There is something about you that appeals to me." During the long run of this latest success of Miss Van Studdiford at the Herald Square theater, New York, this winter, more than a dozen encores were given this number nightly. It is said to be destined to supplant the "Merry Widow" waltz in popular favor.

"A Woman's Way."
(At the Grand.)

Rehearsals for "A Woman's Way," in which the Emma Bunting Stock Company will make its opening appearance at the Grand on March 20, will be begun at the Grand this week. The members of the company will arrive within the next few days, several of them being due Tuesday.

"The Dollar Princess."
(At the Orpheum.)

For the first time in the history of theatricals, Mr. Charles Frohman is sending two of his big musical comedies west and south. The management of the Orpheum theater has secured an engagement of "The Dollar Princess" this week. Should they take as kindly to this as "The Arcadians," other productions of this quality will closely follow.

Sarah Bernhardt.
(At the Orpheum.)

One is not handicapped at a Bernhardt performance if one does not understand French. Her acting, even when she is not talking, is a universal language in itself. Madame Bernhardt will appear for one day only at the Orpheum theater on March 22, and will play "L'Aiglon."

What a Social Visit Recalls

A TEN-MINUTE chat I had with a gentleman yesterday recalled to my mind a very interesting case, and one which thoroughly demonstrated the necessity of correct diagnosis before results can be obtained. The gentleman has been a good friend of mine ever since the time, nearly three years ago, when he came to see me for treatment. His history showed suffering for nearly a year from a contracted disease, and this had been preceded by backache, headache, pain at the base of the brain and some pains in his limbs which had been pronounced sciatica. Doctor after doctor had treated him, and he had even been to a famous institution at a distance. He had received no benefit whatever. There was a reason for this, and I knew I must find the reason. I knew he had been treated for sciatica, for kidney trouble because of the backache, for nervous exhaustion and other ailments. But not one of the doctors had gone beyond this and found what I did—an old standing irritation of the prostatic urethra and seminal vesicles. Here was where I found the cause. Knowing this to be the cause, it was not difficult to give him relief, and in several weeks I had him thoroughly cured. It is possible the other physicans he had consulted could have cured him, too, if they had known what was the cause of his trouble. But they found it impossible to tell what was wrong—they didn't make a correct diagnosis. And that's the most important thing. If the engine in the automobile is not working right, putting on new tires will not help. I am at my office from 8 to 7; Sundays and holidays, 10 to 1. My booklets are free, by mail, in plain, sealed wrapper.

Lawrenceville, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—The March term of the Gwinnett superior court convened this morning, Judge C. H. Brand presiding.

The grand jury organized by electing G. W. Pharr foreman.

Judge Brand charged the jury along the usual lines, and then gave an especial warning to the professional pistol-toter. He stated that it would be his policy, if it met with public approval, to send all such offenders to the chain gang for a term.

To ascertain the sentiment of the people of this county Foreman Pharr polled the jurors and visitors present in the court room. Every one of the large crowd voted in favor of the judge's policy.

Thos. Scott Addresses Planters.

Barnesville, Ga., March 6.—(Special.) Another interesting farmers' meeting was held today at the Sixth District Agricultural school. Mr. Thomas G. Scott, the big Monroe county farmer, made a fine talk on the use of improved farm machinery. His talk was along the most practical lines, for he had made a success of the things of which he talked.

Professor Joseph D. Smith also made an enthusiastic talk which elicited applause and commendation from the audience. He commended the agricultural colleges and schools as the source of instruction for improved agriculture. The meeting was quite an interesting one.

ALDRICH LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON

Senator's Health Much Improved From Stay on Jekyl Island.

Brunswick, Ga., March 6.—(Special.) Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, who has been spending some time on Jekyl Island, left the city this morning on Southern railway private car No. 102 for Washington, where it is expected he will stop before going on to his home in Rhode Island.

He has been on Jekyl Island since January 17, when he came south on account of ill health. He has improved greatly during his stay on the island, and is feeling much better. He praised the beautiful climate of this section of the state, and stated that he had enjoyed the trip to Jekyl.

Since his arrival here he has had nothing to say about politics or national affairs, and has refused to answer any questions on that line.

Senator Aldrich is very fond of fishing, and shortly after his arrival here he chartered the steamer Attaquin, the largest of the Brunswick and Florida steamboat line steamers. For a month he spent much of his time cruising in near-by waters and fishing, and made quite a number of trips to deep sea drops.

Yesterday afternoon he and a number of friends from Jekyl visited Mrs. Lucy Carnegie at her home at Dungeness, on Cumberland island.

TROUBLE IS CAUSED BY NEGRO FIREMEN

Statement by Vice President of the New Orleans and Texas Pacific.

Cincinnati, March 6.—Vice President Powell, of the New Orleans and Texas Pacific railroad, in a statement today, minimized the importance of the action of the firemen of that system, who yesterday sent out ballots for a mail vote to decide whether a strike shall be called because of the employment of negro firemen.

"We do not employ any negro firemen on the New Orleans and Texas Pacific north of Oakdale, Tenn," Mr. Powell said. "We have no intention of bringing negro firemen north of that point."

Coast Line Improvements.

Waycross, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—By a change in plans of freight traffic handling in Waycross the Atlantic Coast Line will shortly begin the construction of a line west of the business section of Waycross, connecting the Albany main line with the Montgomery line, and providing a way to send freight traffic without passing through the heart of Waycross. The improvement will render less dangerous a number of grade crossings in the city, besides making freight movements more convenient for the railroad.

Funeral of Captain Wages.

Athens, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—The funeral of Captain J. C. Wages, whose death occurred in Athens Saturday morning on the twenty-sixth anniversary of his marriage, occurred this morning at Rutledge, the casket leaving Athens this morning on the train of which he was the conductor for many years. The pastor of Young Harris Methodist church here, of which he was a member, and the pastor of the Methodist church at Rutledge, conducted the funeral there about noon. Mr. Wages last week rounded out his forty-second year in the service of the Georgia railroad, and the week before completed his thirty-seventh year of service as passenger conductor, having been twenty years or more conductor on the main line of the Georgia between Atlanta and Augusta.

DuPont-de Nemoirs Powder Company, of Wilmington, Del., violated the Sherman anti-trust law for fourteen years, was the charge made today by James Scarlet, chief counsel for the government in its suit in the United States circuit court against the powder company. The government alleges that the powder company has formed a combination to set powder prices and control

NO DOUBLE TRACK FOR THE CENTRAL

President Markham Says Court Decision Precludes Improvements.

Savannah, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—President Charles H. Markham, of the Central of Georgia railway, who is here on a tour of inspection, denied the rumor that the Central will be double-tracked from Birmingham to Savannah.

President Markham is now making his first tour of the Central properties, and is authority for the statement that his election to the presidency will not necessitate any change in the management of the road. He believes that the Central is already a factor in the transportation world.

President Markham says he finds the property in fine physical condition, and that it operates through an especially attractive section of the country.

He stated that the decision of the interstate commerce commission in the railroad cases will preclude any improvements on the line in the near future, but the operating expenses of the road will not be curtailed.

RASH SO BAD BABY CAME NEAR DYING

Head Broke Out. Spread to Arms, Legs and Entire Body. Itched So He Would Scratch Until Blood Ran. One Box of Cuticura Ointment and Nearly One Cake of Cuticura Soap Cured Him. Has Had No Return.

"When my boy was about three months old, his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a watery fluid. We tried everything we could but he got worse all the time, till it spread to his arms, legs and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was so weak and run down that he took fainting spells as if he were dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws.

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad I was he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think our boy would have died but for the Cuticura Remedies and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. He was cured more than twenty years ago, and there has been no return of the trouble. I shall be glad to have you publish this true statement of his cure." (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Maitland, Jasper, Ontario, May 27, 1910.

Cuticura Remedies afford the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp of infants, children and adults. A cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and a box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient. Sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. FARM TRAIN VISITED BY RECORD CROWDS

At Statesboro, Stillmore and Adrian Great Interest Was Manifest.

Stillmore, Ga., March 6.—(Special.) The college on wheels arrived here today at 11:30 o'clock and spent about three hours.

The train was met by a brass band and a large crowd of people.

An appropriate address of welcome was delivered by Rev. J. A. Mobley, pastor of the Baptist church.

The train officials commented on the great number of school children present, there being over three hundred, and the fact that farmers manifested greater interest here than at any place they had stopped on the tour of the state.

Dinner was tendered the visitors at the Conoochee hotel, but had to be declined because of the interest of the farmers which kept the entire corps busy during the stop here.

Interest manifested indicated that the planters of this section are wide-awake and alive to agricultural advancement.

5,000 BULLOCH PLANTERS GREET COLLEGE ON WHEELS

Statesboro, Ga., March 6.—(Special.) More than 5,000 planters and at least 2,000 women and children hailed the agricultural special upon its arrival here from Savannah this morning at 8 o'clock via the Central of Georgia railway.

The Savannah and Statesboro railway operated a special train which reached Statesboro shortly before the arrival of the college on wheels. The Central of Georgia arrived at that hour and the Savannah, Augusta and Northern reached here in ample time.

Each road brought hundreds of farmers here for the occasion. In addition to the Statesboro institute and the First District Agricultural school, which furnished together 600 pupils, every school near enough to Statesboro attended in a body. There were considerably over 1,000 school children present. They were as eager to hear the addresses of the experts and see the displays as the planters.

The speaking was held from the south end of the courthouse.

The reception committee consisted of the entire council and a number of representative citizens.

The lecturers were given an automobile trip over the good roads, for which Bulloch county has gained a reputation, during their visit.

Colonel R. Lee Moore welcomed the visitors on behalf of Statesboro and Colonel Albert M. Deal welcomed them on behalf of Bulloch county.

On the last trip the agricultural train made to Statesboro the speaking was held in the courthouse and the yard would hardly hold the gathering. The crowd was even larger this time.

Merchants closed their places of business for the two hours the train was in Statesboro.

LATEST FARM IMPLEMENTS INTERESTED EMANUEL PLANTERS

Adrian, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—When the agricultural special arrived this afternoon at 3 o'clock, more than 1,000 Emanuel county farmers were out to extend greeting.

A good number of women, and more than 200 school children were present. They took as much interest in the exhibits and lectures as the planters themselves.

The interest taken by the planters in the exhibit of improved farming implements was commented upon by the train officials. Many Emanuel planters have adopted the most modern methods of agriculture, and they are alive to every practical device which will lessen labor and increase yields.

Campaign On for Hotel.

Macon, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—Today the work under Chairman R. F. Burden for securing the full stock subscription for the ten-story hotel at the corner of Cherry and Second streets was started, and now it will be pushed till the amount desired has been brought in. MAY MEAN DEPOT FOR CENTRAL CITY

Southern Officials Spend the Day in Macon—Depot Talk Revived.

Macon, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—Vice President Spencer and a number of the officials of the Southern railroad were in Macon this morning on a tour of inspection.

They spent several hours in conference with the heads of the different departments here and resumed their journey at noon.

Their presence here connected them with a rumor that a conference of railway officials is already under way regarding a new passenger station in Macon. It is now generally believed that if a suitable agreement can be had among all officials of the roads coming into Macon the present passenger depot of the Southern will go over to the Macon, Dublin and Savannah for freight terminals and all lines will center in a new passenger station to be constructed at some convenient place.

Friends of Movement Will Be Active Till Election on March 18.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—Every friend of the waterworks movement who favors ownership and management by the people, will be out and doing for the next few days, the election having been set for March 18. Election managers have been named and will go to council tomorrow evening for approval. Mayor Moore and members of the city council have done much active work in their efforts to impress the importance of owning the waterworks upon the people of the community. The fight will be made a strong and earnest one till the close.

With every registered voter pledged on the side of the bond issue to pay for the present system, it would then be no easy matter for the friends of the measure to get it carried. CONSTITUTION PUBLISHING CO.

And congress doesn't like the spy system, either.

However, the Sixty-first congress could not have acted a day older.

We entertain the nation this week through its representative guests.

Now for a congress which will mean business from start to finish.

This week we shall have the great distinguished "among those present."

Champ Clark may as well be jolly about it, and not repudiate his mules.

It takes but a brief second thought for them to resign the idea of resigning.

The Chautauqua platforms will enable the lame ducks to repair damages.

Bailey took it all back, not wishing to throw a calm country into hysterics.

No wonder some are sullen over an extra session—no premium for overtime.

Though Lorimer is not exactly with the lame ducks, his head must ache for ice.

Since the harem-skirt is too swift for Paris, of course New York will want it.

All trusts look alike to the government, and act alike in slipping out of the toils.

President Taft will have no anxiety as to the outcome of a commercial congress.

The spy system will not strive to vindicate itself on the lecture platform of the country.

Let us agree that congress did its best—but that wasn't more than the people expected of it.

Never doubt it: The lame ducks did not limp more than the congress to which they belonged.

Senator Lorimer received a "flower-shower." The flowers were "cut"—like the vindication vote.

And it happened just when The Congressional Record had promised its subscribers a brief holiday.

If you don't think there is Charity left in the world, read some of the obituaries on the late congress.

And we shall have "Uncle Jimmie" Gordon with us, who thrilled the national heart with one candid speech.

Let the other congress rest in peace. The commercial one in Atlanta has the national attention now.

Strange, there should be such perfect peace in a country that has only ten months in which to prepare for war.

Uncle Joe Cannon keeps his stogie at the same defiant angle. He is far from being in the campaign-cigar class.

Senator Beveridge will not "retire to the shades." Wherever there is a lecture platform he creates fierce limelight.

Colonel Roosevelt's home-towns are everywhere; but when he comes to Georgia there is more heartiness in his leading question: "How are the folks at home?"

Robin says he fooled the alienists; and so does a New York jury. But watch the alienists stand pat, with the statement that Robin and the jury don't know what they're talking about.

DECORATE FOR COMMERCIAL CONGRESS!

Tomorrow Atlanta will be host to the Southern Commercial Congress—probably the most notable aggregation of practical, achieving business men in the history of the post-bellum south.

The business men of the city should recognize the largeness of the occasion by making Atlanta's business establishments a continuous sea of bunting and other decorations.

There is no fear that the city's reputation for hospitality will not be maintained.

Arrangements to that end have been in the making for many months.

But that phase of entertainment should be amply supplemented with structural embellishment.

It is more urgent, of course, that the business heart of the city be decorated.

But it is no less fitting that every business house, wherever situated, should be draped in the national colors.

Residences, too, on the trunk thoroughfares should carry out the same general plan of the stars and stripes, liberally displayed.

The municipality is to do its part in decorating the Peachtree viaduct and other public localities.

The business men should do their part, in such unanimous use of red, white and blue that the entire city will take on a gala appearance.

It is no ordinary body of men that are to assemble here tomorrow.

Not only will the south send its most prominent citizens—governors, captains of industry, and leaders generally—but we are to entertain the president of the nation, a former president of the nation, several distinguished foreign ambassadors, other individuals high in the ranks of national and international achievement.

All and singular, the name and fame of Atlanta has come to them.

They will expect, not only a great city as befits the second municipality in the southern states, but as well a city en fete, visibly sensible of the honor of the role of host to so distinguished a gathering.

It will require quick work to decorate the city in the proper manner for the climax of the congress.

Start the first thing this morning!

DECORATE!

CIVIC CLUBS IN GEORGIA.

In Forsyth, Monroe county, there is to be organized on March 8 a civic club, for purposes of general improvement and community uplift.

In Cornelia, in Habersham county, a civic club was organized last week, with the same general purposes in view.

And these are merely illustrations.

Every Sunday The Constitution's club page bristles with reports and announcements of the formations and proceedings of organizations of aggressive men and women, banded together with the common impulse of making life in the aggregate more healthful, more beautiful, clothed with a meaning less of materialism and more of spirit.

The trend is encouraging. It is one of the most infallible symptoms of awakening.

These organizations, small at first, but growing as each member catches the contagion, have it in their power to loosen in every community a new civic viewpoint—a rousing of the civic conscience to beauty and cleanliness of streets and premises, to the perfection of town sanitation, to the stamping out of vice which, sadly enough, exists wherever men dwell, to the knowledge that it is better to build for tomorrow, while we are building at all.

Another most helpful feature of these movements is their efficiency in promoting the spirit of co-operation.

Always in towns—cities, for that matter—the man who would promote progress must reckon with petty cliques, bickerings, small jealousies, sundry pulling at cross purposes. But the civic club, properly launched and directed, welds these various hostile elements into a common working force, smoothing out the "irreconcilables" and developing the creative instinct that lurks in most thoughtful men and women.

It is to be hoped that the civic club idea is merely in its beginnings. It contains all the possibilities of becoming a splendid force for general advancement in Georgia.

MR. TAFT AT THE UNIVERSITY CLUB.

One of the happiest events on President Taft's program in Atlanta during the Southern Commercial Congress will be his call upon and reception at the University Club, Atlanta's new and flourishing social organization.

Throughout Mr. Taft's career, in its various intricate and widely-separated phases, his sympathies have ever been with that broader education for which the Atlantans affiliated with the University Club stand.

While he has many times declared that a college education is not indispensable to the highest type of success, he has stressed its value as supplying that symmetrical equipment increasingly demanded with the growing complication of our social machinery.

The Taft reception at the club should, therefore, draw together a congenial host of spirits, calculated to appeal to the president in the direction of his finest attributes and ideals.

A BENEFICENT "BIG STICK."

Speaking humorously, but with an undertone of serious meaning, the president of the Argentine Republic recently threatened to launch a campaign that would drive America out of the markets of the world, by bringing to those markets the cheapened products of the almost illimitable agricultural principalities of the big South American republic.

The Sacramento Union comments upon this curious boast as worthy of consideration, but thinks its realization might prove beneficial, ultimately, to the American farmer by forcing him to reform his system of agriculture.

Developing that line of reasoning, the writer says:

The future of American agriculture lies in the small farm, in more scientific cultivation, in greater diversity of crops, in the development of commercial co-operation among farmers and in building of many little homes on the support of the soil—millions of them. If the president of Argentina forces the American people to accelerate the present progress toward intense agriculture he will have done them a genuine service.

If foreign competition from the Argentine should compel America to inaugurate what may roughly be called "business agriculture," the threat of the South American would be, in effect, the wielding of a beneficent big stick.

In no one section of the country more emphatically than in the south, is there need and opportunity for the materialization of our contemporary's remedy.

The Constitution remarked a few days ago upon the tendency to split up great and unwieldy plantations into small farms, and sell them to worthy purchasers upon easy payments.

In the development of that plan lies the greatest immediate hope for the southern states.

As for the phase of intensive agriculture—that day is beginning already to dawn.

The man who confines his observations to the city has not the remotest conception of the tendency toward improved farming now at work in Georgia.

In south Georgia, and here and there in north Georgia, even the older farmers have learned the lesson the west learned some years ago—the value of method on the farm, the fact that machinery would lessen labor and increase output, the wisdom of not putting one's eggs all in one basket, but of diversifying to the extent of the soil's versatility.

Once launched, this tendency will be self-propelling. We may reasonably hope that month by month, year by year, improved farming methods and personal ownership of small farms, will increase in a geometrical ratio.

And when the south, as a section, shall have turned to this doctrine, her formidable stretch of territory and resources will enable her to maintain supremacy, regardless of the inroads of competitors—at home or abroad.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

"Blossoms Blown Across the Land."

Blossoms blown across the land—sweet as sweet can be,
One that touched my sweetheart's lips sweetest is to me.

O'er the violets
South-winds race
Where the rose
Smiles in her face.

Springtime always sweeter seems where she passes by;
Then it is the gardens dream of a bluer sky.

South-winds to
Her red lips race
Where the rose
Smiles in her face.

The Restful Returned.

"The lame ducks are home from Washington," says The Billville Banner, "but you'd hardly know it, for there was no speech-makin', and no brass band met 'em at the depot. They came in at midnight, and went home as quiet as if they had never deafened the woods with a campaign speech, or promised to lower the tariff ten feet. They're not goin' to tell us what hit 'em, as they don't rightly know themselves. All they do know is that somethin' heavy dropped, an' they were under it. But, what's the difference? They'll have a good, long vacation, and they won't do the country no harm playin' checkers on the old pine box, an' prophesyin' weather, an' shoutin' 'Amen!' in meetin'. They ought to be mighty glad that the country's willin' to give 'em restin' room.

Life in the Settlement.

These items of happy rural life from a correspondent of The Adams Enterprise:

"Sim Sprawls has painted his old buggy a bright red. (He takes a widow out driving every Sunday.)

"Jim Scroggs happened to the accident of having his good leg cut off by a sawmill. (He has had a wooden leg all along.)

"The man who prophesied the killing of the fruit crop was recently taken to the woods and lost."

Nothing Extenuate.

The editor of The Adams Enterprise is willing to let bygones be bygones:

"Just ring it from the steeple—
Let the trumpets raise a row:
We'll forgive the hot air congress
When the lame ducks follow the plow."

His Business "Picking Up."

"Yes," said the old lady, "now that spring is with us, business will pick up with the old man."

Asked what he did for a living, she replied:

"Well, he sells rabbit-feet fer watch-charms, an' to stave off hoodoos, an' he does fine with rattlesnake rattles, but he makes most at sellin' young mockin'birds an' prayin' fer rain."

An Invitation.

If Mister Mockin'bird'll sing
An' fetch a sunny day,
The world'll make-believe it's spring
An' smile its grief away.

Hope for Us All.

The editor of The Clarkesville Piker is optimistic. He says:

"Some sweet day, love shall be requited, honor reclaimed, right enthroned, truth triumphant and only fresh eggs brought to market."

Delegates From Six States Attend the Waycross Meeting.

Waycross, Ga., March 6.(Special.)—Delegates from every state in which the Atlantic Coast Line operates—Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama—were enrolled at the morning session of the meeting called to perfect an organization of the shop and office employees of the Atlantic Coast Line. The organization will be known as the system federation, and will consist of representatives of all the organizations now existing among the employees of this road. The meeting was opened by C. G. Lewis, of Waycross, secretary of the Waycross Mechanics' Union. Mayor John M. Cox extended the delegates a cordial welcome on behalf of the city.

Tonight a banquet was given the visitors at the Masonic hall. Tomorrow the business session will probably conclude the federation's organization.

17 BALES OF COTTON HAULED ON ONE TRUCK

Value of Good Roads Exemplified in Bartow---Truck Carried 8,500 Pounds.

Cartersville, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—Up-to-date farming methods and the value of good roads were both exemplified when Sam J. Allen, of Cass, came into Cartersville driving a gasoline traction engine which had in tow a truck laden with seventeen bales of cotton.

Eight thousand and five hundred pounds on one wagon. Each bale of cotton on the wagon weighed more than 500 pounds and the price paid for the staple by J. E. Field & Son, purchasers, was 14 1-4 cents around.

Mr. Allen's load, handled by himself and one man and no mules, came from Cass in less than two hours and the money he received for the load of cotton, in round numbers, was $1,232.50.

A GLORIOUS COUNTRY, SAYS CARDINAL GIBBONS

Catholics Can Proclaim Their Faith Without Fear of Interference.

New Orleans, March 6.—"This is a glorious country, where Catholics can proclaim their faith without fear of interference of military satraps," is the statement accredited to Cardinal Gibbons last night when responding to a cordial welcome extended by the members of the Knights of Columbus upon his visit to their hall in this city. The cardinal paid an eloquent tribute to the work and influence of the order.

"For God and country," he said, should be inscribed on the banner of the knights. He urged the members to take an interest in the questions that arise; that none should be drones in the social hive as, "all are protected by the strong arm of the government."

HUMAN INTEREST AND FREAK ITEMS FROM GEORGIA TOWNS

To Allow Firemen to Attend Church.

Macon, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—If a resolution introduced in city council by Alderman W. A. McKenna is favorably reported, the members of the Macon fire department will in the future be allowed to leave their post of duty on Sundays in order to attend church services.

Alderman McKenna's resolution provides that the chief of the fire department shall allow as many men as he possibly can to vacate their posts on Sunday during the time of church services, in order that the men may attend church. The resolution also provides that the firemen shall return to the stations as soon as the services are concluded.

It seems that a considerable percentage of the members of the Macon fire department are religiously inclined, btu are restrained from church activities by reason of their hours of service, not having the privilege of leaving the station houses on Sundays.

Should Mr. McKenna's resolution pass next week, however, it will be no uncommon sight in the future to see the firemen hastening to church on Sabbath mornings.

Invents Electric Incubator.

Thomasville, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—Mr. A. T. Snodgrass displayed here this week an electric incubator, which was filled with chickens which had been hatched in it. He has called the invention the "Snodgrass Parlor Incubator."

It is heated by electricity, the method of heating being the invention of Mr. Snodgrass. He will perfect the details and place them on sale in a short time. They will prove much more convenient than the ordinary incubator and will become very popular with chicken raisers when they are once put on the market.

Very Large Egg.

Cordele, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—Dr. W. B. Marshall displayed here this week an egg which weighed exactly 5¾ ounces and measured 6½x8¾ inches; it was of a most brilliant yellow and of regular shape. It was a product of one of his prize winning Rhode Island Reds which carried off the first prizes at the November Crisp county fair. Dr. Marshall, who is perhaps the champion poultry raiser of south Georgia, has in his yard several different varieties of finest breed chickens to which he devotes a great deal of attention and in which he takes great pride. While his interest in poultry raising is only for the gratification of a favorite hobby and for the supply of home use, he says there is big and easy money in chickens, even if the eggs do not come up to the standard in size and weight with the one above.

Invents a Stalk Chopper.

Douglas, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—Mr. J. J. Hill, who is always trying to invent something, has hit right at last. He has invented a cotton and corn stalk chopper, which is a success. It has two wheels, an elevated seat, and chopper made of steel, which by a cog on the axle of the wheel works up and down, cutting the stalks in short lengths. The model is complete, and on exhibition in the rear of his cold drink stand. He is applying for a patent, and it is hoped will make a success of this invention.

Mule Killed in Mysterious Manner.

Dublin, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—A very valuable mule owned by W. S. Phillips, on the Dominey plantation, near here, was killed in a very mysterious manner. The animal had been given its breakfast and was found dead in the stall a short time later with food in its mouth and a bullet hole in the neck.

No clues have yet been found to identify the man who shot the mule. It is believed that some person passing along the road fired into the barn as he drove or walked by and killed the mule.

The animal was valued at $275. Mr. Phillips has offered a reward of $50 for the arrest of the person with evidence to convict.

Cold Storage Houses to Save Meats.

Dudley, Ga., March 6.—(Special.)—The warm weather for the past few weeks has greatly aroused the farmers' fears as to the safety of the pork already killed, and they are also wondering if the weather will again be cold enough to kill the remaining hogs now "fattening" without having to resort to artificial means.

Mr. J. A. Hogan, who has already slaughtered quite a number of hogs, and who still has about 15,000 pounds to save yet, has ordered brick and will erect a cold storge house and use ice to save his meat.

Gourd 300 Years Old.

Acworth, Ga., March 6.—(Special.) An old-fashioned powder gourd 300 years old is being exhibited here by one of the pioneer citizens, J. M. Turner. Mr. Turner has a complete history of the gourd, which was handed down to him through three generations. It is an heirloom of his family and he prizes it very highly.

JURY DECIDES JONES DID NOT BITE SMITH

Isaac Smith's Nose Showed No Signs of Jones' Teeth.

Ears and noses and a well developed "biting" tendency figured prominently in an unusual case which was tried yesterday in the city criminal court.

A charge very seldom preferred in the local courts, that of mayhem, had been made against Arlin Jones by Isaac Smith. Smith said that Jones tried to bite his nose off and a piece of his ear, and invoked the law in an effort to punish Jones. But inasmuch as Smith presented a perfectly good nose to the inspection of the jury, and as the witnesses for the state were not able to prove that Jones maliciously tried to maim Smith, a verdict of not guilty was returned.

By a queer coincidence Jones himself is minus a goodly portion of his right ear, it having been bit off some time ago by another man named Hornsby. Hornsby was tried for that offense and sentenced to twelve months.

The laws against mayhem are very severe, the punishment ranging from short imprisonment to life terms in the penitentiary, and in some cases the extreme penalty is death even. Cases involving these laws are very rare, however, in the local courts.

LAD WHO SHOT TEACHER TAKES CARBOLIC ACID

Chas. Smith Fires Upon Teacher Because He Had Been Whipped.

Johnson City, Tenn., March 6.—Charles Smith, aged 15 years, who on February 7 shot Professor J. C. Gray, his teacher, in the back, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. He was found dead in his father's barn this afternoon about 3:30 o'clock. The boy disappeared last night, and search today resulted in finding him dead. Professor Gray had chastised the boy, and the shooting was the sequel.

DECORATE STORES, URGES AD CLUB

Anxious for City to Be in Gay Colors for Coming of Visitors.

In response to the call of the Ad Men's Club, a number of the prominent merchants have already put up handsome decorations in honor of the meeting of the Southern Commercial Congress, which convenes March 8-10. The Capital City Club and similar buildings are gaily decorated; but the committee in charge of setting the decorations up, wants to see the entire central section of the city alive with banners. With Taft and Roosevelt, and a host of others, and the congress itself in session here all at the same time, the banners must go up, and the more the merrier, says Chairman Parkhurst, of the Ad Men's Club committee.

There is only one more day left in which to decorate.

Reuben R. Arnold is her attorney. The petition is a recountal of the circumstances of the collision, and she alleges negligence on the part of the company's employees, charging that the roadway was clear and that the motorman could have stopped his car in time after the automobile was sighted.

CARPENTERS CUT OUT NON-UNION PRODUCTS

Southern and Western Manufacturers to Fight New York Boycott.

New York, March 6.—Fight against an alleged boycott in the New York market against non-union made woodworking materials was begun today with manufacturers from the south and middle west as complainants.

The anti-boycott association, which prosecuted the boycott suits of the Danbury Hat Company and the Buck's Stove & Range Co. case, and which will handle the present suit, declares that the action is of far-reaching importance, because upon its "success depends the future conduct of employers and employees in every branch of the building trade."

The suit filed in the United States circuit court today, is against national and local officers of the carpenters' union and New York contractors, who, it is alleged, have agreed with the union to use only union-made trim. It seeks to restrain the carpenters and contractors from further carrying out this agreement, and alleges that the products of middle west and southern wood work manufacturers, who employ non-union labor, is boycotted.

The Bristol Door and Lumber Co., of Bristol, Va., is one of the eight parties to the action.

FRIENDS WORK FOR STRIPLING

Petition for Pardon Will Soon Be Filed.

Members of Railroad Commission Unofficially Notified the Petition Is Coming at This Session---May Keep Stripling in Jail Until Hearing.

It was reported at the office of the prison commission yesterday that friends of Edgar Stripling, the Danville chief of police, who was recently brought back to Georgia to serve a life sentence in the penitentiary for a murder committed fourteen years ago in Harris county, will appear before the commission some time this week to urge a pardon for the man.

Chairman Davison, of the commission, stated Monday afternoon that he has been informed unofficially that Stripling's friends will appear at the present session of the board and will ask that his case be considered as early as is possible.

The chairman stated that the commission has not been officially informed by the sheriff of Harris county of the fact that Stripling has been captured, and therefore no action has been taken toward placing him in the penitentiary. He is now in the jail at Columbus.

So much public sympathy and interest has been aroused in Stripling's case that it is very probable the commission will consider an application for a pardon within a short time after such a petition is filed. It is also probable that the commission will allow the man to remain in jail until his case is passed upon.

Chairman Davison stated Monday afternoon that it is within the power of the commission to defer sending Stripling to the penitentiary until his application for a pardon is acted upon, but, of course, he could not say what the action of the commission will be.

It is stated that Stripling has employed T. T. Miller, city attorney of Columbus, to look after his application for clemency, and it is understood that the efforts of the attorney will be supplemented by other petitions not only from various sections of Georgia, but from Danville, Va., where he lived for a number of years after escaping from the jail in Harris county in 1898.

Attorney Miller will be in Atlanta Tuesday to appear before the commission in another case and it is probable that he will take up Stripling's case with the commission on his visit here.

Petitions for Pardon.

Columbus, Ga., March 6.—(Special.) Scores of petitions, asking for the pardon of Edgar Stripling, are now being circulated, and numerously-signed letters and telegrams of sympathy and encouragement are being received constantly by the former Danville police chief in the Muscogee county jail.

Some of the letters are really remarkable in their character. One of them that came today was from W. G. Post, a leading citizen of Newnan. Mr. Post wrote that he had never heard of him before, but was so much impressed by his case and so anxious that he be granted a pardon, that he had personally started out six petitions in his behalf in that city. Still other petitions are being circulated in Newnan.

Burt Cook, a prominent merchant at Hamilton, wrote Stripling that he believed 90 per cent of the white people of Harris county (his home) wanted him pardoned.

Among the expressions of sympathy received today were several from Danville.

Petitions in Stripling's behalf are being circulated in Columbus.

RELEASED FROM NAVY, COMES BACK FOR WIFE

Jack Lipscomb Says His Bride of Seventeen Still Loves Him.

"I have come back for my wife and I am going to have her," is the determined assertion of Jack G. Lipscomb, who was forcibly separated from his bride, Carrie Prather Lipscomb, about a month ago on the charge of desertion from the navy.

Young Lipscomb married the girl of his choice after a brief courtship, and despite parental opposition. The bridegroom was arrested for desertion from the navy, but was released through the efforts of Georgia congressmen.

"While I was in Portsmouth, Carrie's letters never stopped, although she was forced to have them secretly mailed. She says that she still loves me, and I love her—and there you are," says Lipscomb. "Her father has written me that it was useless for me to think of his daughter, but that does not matter. Carrie is now in Tennessee with her grandfather. She writes that she wants me, and I am going to get her at any cost."

After the departure of Lipscomb for Portsmouth a suit for annulment of the marriage was instituted by his wife, through McDuffie & Weltner.

HUSBAND SUES FOR CHILDREN

Manicurist and Mother Made Defendants.

A. W. Carmichael Returns to Atlanta---Says He Left Miss Louise Whittemore in Miami, Fla., With Her Mother---Denies Lavish Expenditures.

O. C. Eavenson, husband of the young manicurist, who left Atlanta with A. W. Carmichael, the rich young gentleman who believes in spending money when he has it, has filed habeas corpus papers against Mrs. J. A. Whittemore, the mother of Mrs. Eavenson.

He wants to gain the custody of his two children, Lucile Eavenson, aged 5 years, and W. C. Eavenson, aged 3 years. He claims that Mrs. Whittemore has them with her, pretending an authority from the mother of the children. Eavenson says she has no right to keep the children, and says that he, as their father, is entitled to them. Eavenson lives in Athens, but was in the city Monday. Business called him back home; but he is expected in the city again today.

The habeas corpus petition was filed through Scott & Davis, and Mr. Scott said that Carmichael was in his office Monday morning.

"We talked the matter over briefly," the attorney said. "Mr. Carmichael, however, was in a hurry, and I expected him to return later in the afternoon to talk further about the matter."

Just what Mr. Carmichael has to do with the habeas corpus proceedings was not made clear by the lawyers, but he said that Mrs. Whittemore, Mrs. Eavenson, or Miss Louise Whittemore, as she was known among her friends downtown, and the two children are all in Miami, Fla.

Carmichael Returns.

A. W. Carmichael arrived in Atlanta yesterday morning from New York.

"I have returned to deny part of the stories printed concerning me during the last few days, especially that part which charges me with taking Miss Whittemore to Miami, Fla., and afterward to New York," he said.

Mr. Carmichael returned after receiving a telegram from Joe Whittemore, brother of the girl, questioning him concerning the stories printed in the papers.

"I did not take Miss Whittemore to New York with me, or even to Miami, Fla.," he said. "I knew she was married to a man named Evanston, and I knew that she had not obtained a divorce from him. It is true that I went shopping with her, as I was an old friend, but I bought neither clothes or jewels for her. She was preparing to go to Miami to see her father and was buying clothes to make the journey. I did take her out to dinner and automobile riding a few times, but why that should create a sensation in a city the size of Atlanta, I cannot understand.

"The story of my taking her to Florida was bred from the fact that I went on the same train as she, her mother and her two children. I parted from them in Miami, after she had found her father, and have not seen her since.

"As far as my expenditures in Atlanta are concerned, I spent only about $550. This includes clothes, dinners, auto rides and all other incidentals."

He is improving rapidly, and expects to be able to return to Washington for the extra session of congress which has been called by the president for April 4.

SCHLESINGER FACTORY READY FOR CONGRESS

One of the most artistic and unique displays of decorations in honor of the visit of President Taft to Atlanta, is that which graces the building of Harry L. Schlesinger, on Madison avenue.

Everyone who has seen this decoration has admired its simplicity and beauty. About 150 flags 18x36 are used in the decorative scheme.

Two to three are put on each window, arranged in such a way that when the breeze hits them the effect is beautiful.

This decoration is also inexpensive and might offer a suggestion to others. Two of the company's men did the decorating and the flags cost $30.

ATLANTA BOY INVENTS REGISTER TO SAVE WORK

Garnett J. Dye, an Atlanta boy 19 years of age, in the employ of the Western and Atlantic railroad at Montgomery, has invented an improved register for weighing scales.

The young inventor's device came about as the result of a piece of practical experience. In 1909 he was employed by Read Phosphate Company, of Nashville, Tenn., as a weighman, whose duty was to check the goods from the warehouse to the cars.

This became a tiresome job and an uncomfortable one in cold weather. He began to work on an instrument to relieve him of this work. He made a crude register, which would punch holes in a pice of tape when each load passed over the scales.

The patent papers were signed in Florence, Ala., while he resided there. His first application was filed June 18, 1910, and patented February 14, 1911. Patent No. 984362.

Among the principal objects which the present invention has in view are to provide a registering mechanism attached to the beam of the scale for producing a permanent record, to provide inking means for the said mechanism, etc., all points being fully covered.

The register is independent of the scale and may be attached to any pair of scales in short time. The first weight passing over the scales is registered in figures before the weighman's eyes and also printed on the paper tape on the machine, this process being gone through with each time until the required amount has been weighed. The operator thus has a visible record of everything that has passed over the scale during the day.

SOCIETY

MRS. GRANGER WILL EXTEND INVITATION TO MRS. HAMMOND

Mrs. A. O. Granger, of Cartersville, Ga., is in the city to attend the meeting of the executive board of the the Georgia Federation. She will remain over to attend the reception to be given to Mrs. John Hays Hammond, national chairman of the woman's welfare work of the National Civic Federation, and will extend to Mrs. Hammond and the ladies of her party an invitation to visit the mills of the American Pad and Textile Company, near Cartersville, Ga., where a system of excellent welfare work has been initiated among the mill people.

"I am delighted," said Mrs. Granger, "that the ladies of other sections are coming to ours, and that they will have the opportunity to see the welfare work we are doing.

"Only this morning I went over the little mill village of Acto, which is the property of the American Pad and Textile Company, and I bring with me a beautiful impression of the place and an invitation from the managers of the mill, Mr. Miller and Mr. Frederick Brown, to Mrs. Hammond and the ladies of her party to visit the mill and town.

"This is the only mill in Georgia which has never been run at night. It runs ten hours a day, and pays the same wage that the mills pay which run twelve hours a day. During the time when the mills in various sections, for various reasons, cut down the wage, this mill did not. The same wage continued to be paid, but the dividends for the time were diminished."

Relative to the size of the mills Mrs. Granger stated that there were eight hundred and three looms, and over thirty-three thousand spindles in operation.

"The homes of the operatives are model ones," said Mrs. Granger, "and when the plant was being built a landscape gardener laid off the site, designated the place and size of the houses, building line, etc., and the result is the most picturesque of mill villages. The streets, walks and squares are according to plan, and the park is a pretty one, with trees planted and foliage and flowers, and each day being made more attractive. The village is lighted by electricity, and good sanitation is enforced.

"There is a fine department store at the mills, but the operatives are not obliged to make their purchases there unless they wish to do so. They are paid their wages in cash Saturday, and are free to go where they please to spend it.

"There is a large chapel, and this is used for a school during the week, presiding over it two well-equipped teachers.

"But, of course, there is no law to force the children of Georgia to go to school," continued Mrs. Granger, "and within sight of this school this morning I saw children of school age wasting their time on the street and not attending school.

"The latest improvement added by the mill owners was the purchase of three acres of land, which has been divided among operatives wishing a portion for vegetable gardens. Besides the gift of the garden, each planter has been given $2.50 worth of seed."

MRS. JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, Chairman woman's committee welfare department National Civic Federation, who will address Atlanta's prominent women on the subject of her work.

O'Donnell-Williams.

The Times-Democrat, of recent date, contains the following:

"The wedding of Miss Florence O'Donnell, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Lawrence O'Donnell, and Mr. E. T. Williams, of Atlanta, Ga., was very quietly celebrated in the presence of her immediate family, Wednesday, March 1, at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 1320 St. Charles avenue. The spacious parlors were beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and carnations. The bride wore a beautiful gray traveling suit. The impressive marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Francon, of St. Theresa church. The bridegroom is a well-known attorney, and is prosecuting attorney for Atlanta before the superior criminal court. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home in the future at the Majestic hotel, Atlanta, Ga."

The Round Table Study Club.

It always gives the members of the Round Table Study Club peculiar pleasure to meet at the home of their president, Mrs. Claude Patterson. As the club's meeting day fell on George Washington's birthday, the members did honor to their hostess, with powder and patches. After a discussion, occasioned by Mrs. Silvers' paper, "An Argument on Shakespeare and Bacon," and Mrs. Lloyd Teaford's paper, "Early Struggles of Shakespeare," which proved most interesting, a unique game was enjoyed. The prizes, all appropriate, were won by Mesdames Thomas, Silvers and Holtz Clair. Owing to the departure of Mrs. Lloyd Teaford for her new home in Gainesville, she was presented with a dainty autograph booklet, prepared by one of the members. The hostess, representing a typical Martha Washington in her dress, conducted the guests to the lunch table, gaily decorated with American and English flags.

Compliment to Georgia Woman.

A very high compliment has come to Miss Louise Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, 165 Forrest avenue. Since her graduation in Boston from the School of Expression, in the class of 1909, she has been in charge of the department of expression in the Florence University for Women, Florence, Ala.

Early Thursday morning, this institution burned to the ground. Before the week was out, Liberty college, Glasgow, Ky., and Powhattan college, Charles Town, W. Va., each offered Miss Davis the department of expression in their respective schools. She has both propositions under consideration.

Her class at Florence will accompany her, which is the highest evidence of Miss Davis' popularity and efficiency.

Madam, Here's Something New

Here is a spaghetti, Italian style, made better than in Rome.

It's our newest dish—the most popular dish our chefs have ever created.

They spent two years on the recipe. They employ in the making 17 ingredients, each the finest of its kind.

The main ones are these:

Durum wheat spaghetti.
Herkimer County full cream cheese.
Best creamery butter.
The same superlative tomato sauce we use in Van Camp's Pork & Beans.

This dish, ready cooked, is now at your grocer's. All you have to do is to heat it.

It is so amazingly good that people notice it instantly. You will find no one who ever has eaten another spaghetti like this.

Don't ask how we make it, for that is our secret. The recipe is priceless.

But enjoy it—enjoy it to the full. It's hearty and cheap and delicious.

Every time that you serve it you'll be glad that we make it.

And, however much you serve, there will never be any left over.

Tell your grocer—now before you forget it—to send the first supply. Then note how often you serve it—a dish you never had before.

DAILY HINT ON FASHIONS

By Marie Montaigne.

The fact that black and white will be very fashionable in the spring is illustrated in everything pertaining to dress, even in the embroidered robes, which come all ready for the dressmaker, and at remarkably low figures. This charming gown is of white batiste of a very fine quality, with black and white embroidery used as a decoration. White Irish lace forms the yoke and trims the sleeves and skirt, besides appearing in lines down the sides of the overskirt. The entire dress is tucked in lengthwise tucks and a wide blue satin girdle, with a rosette of satin at one side gives color to the gown. The lower part of the skirt is quite full where the tucks are released to form a flounce. Quite a number of the new summer gowns are made with flounces, and this makes it possible for the home needlewoman to remodel last season's dress, adding a flounce and a bit of new trimming. Upon the elbow sleeves, above the lace undersleeve, a fold of blue satin is attached, with a small blue satin rosette on the outer side.

Some of the embroidered robes are selling at remarkably low figures. It is possible to get a really fine batiste embroidered elaborately in beautiful designs in colors for $2.98. This role includes extra embroidered bands for trimming the bodice and sleeves. Similarly low prices prevail for embroidered linen robes, because the style of embroidery worn now is so elaborate and so striking that its popularity will not last through next year, and so importers and manufacturers want to get rid of it. Only white embroideries hold anything like their usual prices, for these never go out of style, and designs may always be modified.

CHARMING GOWN OF WHITE BATISTE.

FAME AND MONEY WON BY CORN-COB PIPES

The Industry Means Much to Five Towns in Missouri.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 6.—Corn cob pipes continue to bring fame to Missouri and money to the five towns which make a specialty of manufacturing and shipping them to the consuming centers. This unique industry, the converting of rough and practically worthless corn cobs into a commodity which is in great demand the world over, while still in its infancy, netted seven factories $450,418 in the year 1910. These are the advance figures made public by Labor Commissioner Hiller.

In cob pipes alone the production of 1910 amounted to 26,455,584 pipes.

No Lives Lost.

Minneapolis, March 6.—A. E. Zonne, of Conklin & Zonne, managers of the Syndicate building, which was swept by a fire Sunday, causing a loss estimated at $1,200,000, today announced that it had been definitely established that no lives were lost. Both women reported missing have been accounted for among the fifty lodgers who were rescued from the blazing structure.

To Recount Ballots.

Chicago, March 6.—County Judge Owens today ordered a recount of the ballots cast at the primaries last Tuesday. The order was issued at the instance of E. F. Dunne, who, on face of the police returns, was defeated for the democratic mayoralty nomination by Carter H. Harrison.

Father O'Connor Dying.

Mobile, Ala., March 6.—Rev. Father T. J. O'Connor, of New Orleans, provincial of the Jesuit order, is dying here at a local infirmary. He was taken ill during the bi-centennial celebration.

Names Coal Oil Inspectress.

CATCHER MILLER WILL BE DELAYED

Catcher Miller, of the Crackers, in a telegram to Manager Jordan asked that the routing of his ticket be sent another way. His request has been granted, the ticket being forwarded that way on Monday. As the result, he will be delayed a couple of days coming in.

BATTING CAGE WILL BE IN USE TODAY

The big batting cage which the Crackers and the Senators will use for batting practice will be erected this morning and will be ready for use for the practice of both teams today.

The cage is 20 feet on one end, 35 on the other, 70 feet long, 14 feet high and half of the top covered. A pitcher is all that is necessary for the men to get work-outs.

AT TAMPA.

Tampa, Fla., March 6.—Only a small gathering was present at the West Tampa track this afternoon to witness the running of a well-balanced card. Favorites were successful in three instances, and a like number of public choices were bowled over, the losing favorites being the heaviest played, so in consequence the books had somewhat the better of the day. Speculation was only fair on all races.

Tom Shaw, at 7 to 5, won the feature event, a three-quarter sprint, from Horicon in handy fashion, going to the front soon after the break and never being headed. Grandissimo, at 8 to 5, took the fifth in a drive from Shawnee. A number of close finishes aroused the enthusiasm of the crowd, especially in the closing number, when Lois Cavanaugh got up in the closing sixteenth to defeat the favorite, Vanen.

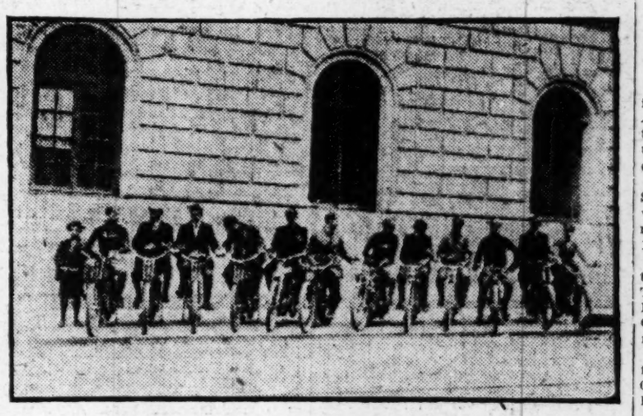
GROUP OF MOTORCYCLISTS



This is a photograph of a bunch of the Atlanta motorcyclists taken in front of the postoffice Sunday, just prior to their run to Roswell, Ga., and back, which was a preliminary run for the purpose of perfecting road signals, etc.

The Motorcycle Club of Atlanta is now a well-organized affair, with a good set of officers and about twenty-five charter members. The organization should be a most beneficial one to all those who own motorcycles, and the runs that will be held should stimulate interest in the sport.

MRS. HARRINGTON PLAYS MRS. PAINE

The finals for the Baroness Rosenkrantz cup will be played today, Mrs. George Harrington and Mrs. T. B. Paine being the contestants.

In the semi-finals played Monday, Mrs. Harrington defeated Miss Drummond 2 up, and Mrs. Paine defeated Miss Janet Stirling 3 up and 1 to play.

Miss Mae O'Brien won the cup offered by the women's golf committee for the winner in the second flight, defeating Miss Dorothy Harmon in the finals 4 up and 3 to play.

The Reach 1911 Guide.

That one more ball season is upon us is convincingly demonstrated through the welcome appearance of Reach's Official American League Guide for 1911; being, as usual, first in the field and this spring earlier than ever. The 1911 Reach Guide, which has been edited for many years by Editor Richter, of Sporting Life, is always up to the high standard set by the Reach Guide ever since the incumbency of the present editor, but it can be justly stated that the 1911 Reach American League Guide is the best of the long Reach series and superior to any similar publication in the world, alike in the matter of text, illustrations, quality of paper, binding and all the details that go to make up a handsome as well as readable book—in short the American League Official Guide for 1911 is in all respects a first-class hand book for the national game and a decided credit to the American League and to the publishers, the Reach Company of Philadelphia. This is the tenth annual issue of the Reach Guide as the official handbook of the American League and the twenty-ninth consecutive year of its publication as a book of record and reference for the entire baseball world.

LOCAL HURLERS NOT HERE YET

The Atlanta pitchers have not shown up as yet, that Manager Jordan has not seen any of them, though they may have arrived in the city Monday.

However, the first thing a ball player does upon his arrival in the city, is to get a good boarding house and get acquainted a bit with the city.

This morning, quite a bunch of them should arrive and in the afternoon, they will all probably be working out at the park.

Roy Moran, Erskine Mayer, Pitcher Leonard and Manager Jordan had a long work-out Monday and are tired out now.

By the end of the week, the entire Cracker squad should be on hand.

SHORTSTOP COOMBS GOES TO ANDERSON

The Coombs that was awarded to Anderson, S. C., by the National Association is the youngster from Thomasville, Ga., a shortstop.

According to the ruling of Secretary Farrell, this youngster signed a contract with Anderson last August and accepted transportation, but never reported.

Atlanta certainly does not want him, if that is the kind of player he is, and it is also very doubtful if he could even show a semblance of making good in this company.

What a happy world this would be if every man spoke as well of his live neighbors as he does of his dead ones!

"KID" ELBERFELD,
Peppery shortstop of the Senators.

SENATORS WORK OUT AT PONCE

Blessed by a warm day, the Washington Americans under Manager McAleer, were out for practice early yesterday morning, and worked steadily until noon, when they quit for the day.

Norman Elberfeld and Outfielder Swain were out at 8:30, so anxious were they to get to work at once. The remainder of the players reported at 10 o'clock.

The Hot Springs bunch under Captain McBride, will arrive here today. This bunch is composed of Shortstop McBride, Pitchers Johnson, Hughes, Otey and Walker, and Outfielders Conroy, Schaefer and Milan.

Outfielders Lelivelt and Swain, Infielder Sommerlot and Pitchers Gray, Groom and Bussey arrived from their homes on Monday.

The bunch now here is:

Catchers Street, Henry and Ainsmith, Pitchers Sherry, Groom, Gray and Bussey.

Infielders Sommerlot, Elberfeld, Bunting and Cunningham.

Outfielders Lelivelt, Swain, Gessler, Ralston, Keefe, Miller, Corbin and Conway.

Manager McAleer donned a uniform and batted them to the infield, which he lined up in this manner: Third base, Elberfeld; shortstop, Bunting; second base, Cunningham; first base, Sommerlot, catcher, Ainsworth.

The Senators will work out every morning, starting practice at 10 o'clock.

By Wednesday or Thursday morning Manager McAleer's Regulars and Yannigans will commence playing about six innings of practice games.

FOURTH ROUND BOWLING TOURNEY

The fourth round of the bowling tournament at the Atlanta Athletic Club will commence Wednesday night. This round is the semi-final, the fifth round winding up the tournament.

This tournament is a five-man team event, the three highest scores in each game counting in the match. Each team meets the other team in the tourney in three games, there being six teams in the race.

Three cups have been offered—a cup for the player making the highest individual score during the tourney, a cup for the player with the highest average, and a cup for the team winning the tournament.

Timmons is leading for the high game cup, Keeler for the high average cup and Timmons' team for the team cup.

Jemison's team plays Perry's Wednesday night, Keeler's plays Hall's Thursday night and Sutton's plays Timmon's Friday night.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

TEAME.	Games.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.

ANOTHER BAD BREAK IN THE COTTON MARKET

Close Was Barely Steady at Net Decline of 14 to 22 Points.

New York, March 6.—There was a further sharp break in the cotton market today, under more or less general selling, which seemed to be inspired by an unfavorable view of the trade situation and a feeling that no immediate improvement is likely in domestic mill circles, owing to the possibility of tariff legislation during the extra session of congress. The close was barely steady at a net decline of 14 to 22 points.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points, which was rather better than due on the cables, but soon weakened with local operators becoming aggressive sellers as soon as it was seen that there was no bull support of consequences and that long cotton was being liquidated. Stop loss orders were uncovered on a scale down, and while rumors that leading bulls were liquidating were denied, nothing more than slight rallies occurred at any time during the day. The continued May premium seemed to color the denials of liquidation by leading bulls, but there was certainly heavy selling by recent buyers, and it was believed that some fairly large lines were liquidated during the day. Reports that there had been reductions of ¼-cent a yard in the price of a leading line of printed goods added to the general nervousness in the late trading, when May cotton sold at 14.10, or 30 points below the early high level, 24 points under the closing figures of Saturday and 55 points below the high record of last week.

Covering caused a slight rally toward the close, but last prices were within 3 or 4 points of the lowest on old crop positions.

Liverpool eased off further after the local opening, with private cables reporting continental selling and an unfavorable trade situation in Austria.

Receipts today 13,325 bales, against 15,309 last week and 12,050 last year. For the week 90,000 bales, against 103,899 last week and 78,383 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,947 bales, against 14,578 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 20 points lower; middling uplands 14.20; middling gulf 14.45; sales 6,021 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 6.—Spot cotton nominal, unchanged; sales on the spot, 62 bales; to arrive, 223; low ordinary, 11⅛, nominal; ordinary, 11 15-16, nominal; good ordinary, 13⅝; strict good ordinary, 13⅜; low middling, 14 1-16; strict low middling, 14 7-16; middling, 14 9-16; strict middling, 14 13-16; good middling, 15; strict good middling, 15 3-16; middling fair, 15 7-16; middling fair to fair, 15 13-16; fair, 16 3-16, nominal; receipts, 1,947; stock, 139,410.

Cotton futures opened steady, 1 point up to 2 points down, compared with Saturday's close. Cables were about as expected so far as Liverpool futures were concerned, but private messages from across the water regarding trade on the continent were extremely pessimistic and caused considerable short selling. Bulls offered the market no support and first prices were the highest in the early trading, the market standing 8 to 10 points under Saturday's last quotations at the end of the first half hour of business. The water map indicated dry weather in the west over Sunday and the forecast promised continued dry weather, but this gave the new crops no at rength.

The entire morning session was dull, with neither side attempting operations of any magnitude, owing to the uncertainty of the legislative situation. Those who represented New Orleans in Washington in the fight against the Scott bill returned to New Orleans this morning, bringing with them full confirmation of the newspaper stories that another bill similar to the Scott bill would be introduced in the extra session of congress. Many of the smaller longs liquidated on this and toward noon prices were put 11 to 16 points under Saturday's close. At noon, the list was 11 points down.

In the afternoon session, selling for both accounts was heavy. At 2 o'clock, prices were 20 to 29 points under Saturday's close.

The market closed barely steady at a net decline of 19 to 30 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, March 6.—The Algonquin Printing Company has revised the price of its Columbia staple prints to 5 cents from 5½c a yard, but will make no charge in lower count goods. Other printers have made no change. Trade for the day was moderately steady. Several new dress goods lines have been opened for the retail and cutting trades.

STOCK MARKET STRONG, BUT VERY DULL SESSION

Covering of Short Contracts and Bullish Tactics Advanced Prices.

New York, March 6.—The stock market was strong today, in spite of the fact that virtually the same conditions existed as those which brought about recessions on previous days. Although stocks were depressed last week, on expectations of the call for the extra session of congress, there was almost no selling pressure today. The fact that there was a possibility of decisions by the United States supreme court, affecting the status of some of the largest corporations, did not disturb the market as on previous Mondays. When it became apparent that the selling movement of last week was not to be continued, there was some covering of short contracts, which, with a renewal of bullish tactics put up prices of most of the standard stocks a point or more in the morning. Thereafter, the market was dull and close was generally below the top level. The day was one of the dullest in several weeks.

The annual reports of two independent steel companies—Cambria and Bethlehem—showed that, in spite of unfavorable trade conditions in the late part of 1910, they had made large gains in the earnings. The Bethlehem reported the largest earnings in its history, with a surplus, after payment of fixed charges and a liberal appropriation for depreciation, of about 14 per cent on the preferred stock. The Cambria's net earnings increased to $4,946,000. New orders of the United States Steel Corporation for February were reported as being the largest of any month since early last year. Further evidence of the trend of conditions in the steel and iron trade was the increase reported from Pittsburg of $1 a ton in the price of wire products.

The determination of the interstate commerce commission to adhere strictly to its rulings in the freight rate cases was shown in its refusal to permit the railroads to postpone the withdrawal of their advanced tariffs instead of cancelling them forthwith.

The day's developments gave no indications of any betterment in the position of the roads. The Great Northern reported a decrease of $610,000 in its net earnings for January, and the Wabash a lesser shrinkage. Advices from Chicago were that traffic on the western roads was irregular, owing largely to the hesitancy of manufacturing interests. Shipments of dry goods have fallen off, according to the report of a large Chicago distributing agency, although orders for fall delivery are more than double those received in the corresponding period last year. No changes were reported in time money, and brokers stated that the market was duller than on any previous day for several months.

The feature of the bond market was a spectacular rise of 18 points in Virginia refunding 6s to 67½ on the news that the United States supreme court had decided this controversy of long-standing. Later the bonds sold off to 59¼. Otherwise the bond market was steady. Total sales, par value, $2,453,000. United States bonds were unchanged.

WEAK FINISH TO WHEAT DUE TO FINE WEATHER

The Market Closed at Loss of 1-2 to 3-4 Cent---Corn Higher.

Chicago, March 6.—Springlike weather and millers holding aloof made a weak finish today for wheat. The close showed a loss of ½ to ¾ compared with forty-eight hours before. In corn there was a net advance of ⅜@½ to ½, and in oats a gain of a shade. Provisions were left unchanged to 10 below.

Reports were current that owing to balmy temperature, plowing was in progress as far up as the Canadian northwest. This condition, together with the fact that an advance of 4c since the middle of last week had failed to stimulate any demand on the part of manufacturers of flour proved too much in the end for owners of wheat. During the middle of the day there was a decided display of strength owing to a big decrease in the United States visible supply. It was pointed out also that primary receipts this season had been 27,000,000 bushels less than last year, but that exports had fallen only 23,000,000 bushels. However, the market was suffering from the effects of a weak start, due to disappointing cables, the result of large world shipments. Gossip was bearish, too, in regard to the forthcoming report by the federal government as to reserves on farms. Altogether the selling became of a more powerful sort than the buying. In consequence the close was easy at almost the lowest point of the session. May ranged from 90⅞ to 92⅛ with last sales ½@⅝ down at 91@91⅛.

Corn bulged because of figures indicating a farm demand greatly in excess of a year ago. The proportion of the visible supply at seaport tended likewise to lengthen the market. May varied between 48¼ and 49¼, closing steady, ⅜@½ up at 48⅞. Cash grade were firm; No. 2 yellow finished at 47@47½.

Oats, though following corn, did not do so in a radical way. A number of the large local shorts covered. The high and low limits for May were 31 and 30⅝ with final prices a shade above Saturday night at 30⅝@30¾.

Realizing by packers eased off provisions. As the outcome pork was a shade to 10 lower, lard off a shade to 2½@5 and ribs unchanged to 7½ decline.

$7,182,507 TAXED ON WEST VIRGINIA

Supreme Court Orders That Sum Paid Virginia on Old State Debt.

Washington, March 6.—Sitting in the unusual capacity of a board of auditors, the supreme court of the United States today computed that the state of West Virginia was under obligations to pay over $7,000,000 of the $33,000,000 debt of Virginia, which existed when the new state was formed. It was the biggest problem in arithmetic the supreme court has had to handle in many years. The exact figure held by the court to be the proper proportion of the old debt which West Virginia is under obligation to bear was $7,182,507.

Justice Holmes announced the opinion. He said the court had regarded the ratio of the valuation of the real and personal property of the two states at the time of their separation as the proper basis for arriving at West Virginia's "just and equitable" proportion of the debt. The court had excluded from this valuation the value of slaves. This ratio, according to the masters' report, Justice Holmes said, was as .765 to .235.

Ever since the civil war the commonwealth of Virginia had been endeavoring to collect from West Virginia what the former claimed was the latter's share of the old state's debt. West Virginia was said to have acknowledged her liability in the "ordinance of Wheeling" before she was admitted to the union and in her state constitution.

Finally, when the payment was not made, Virginia brought suit in the supreme court.

PRUDENTIAL MUST PAY TAXES ON $20,000,000

City of Newark Will Profit About $400,000 a Year.

Trenton, N. J., March 6.—The court of errors and appeals today upheld the contention of Newark against the Prudential Insurance Company on a question of taxation involving about $20,000,000 of ratables set aside to pay preferred dividends on policies issued under the Tontine plan.

The company argued that this money represented indebtedness, and should be deducted from its total assets. The court denied that this was an indebtedness within the meaning of the tax law. As a result Newark will collect about $400,000 a year in taxes from the company for the last three years.

DEMOCRATIC MAYORS WIN OUT IN MAINE

Portland, Me., March 6.—The rumblings of the democratic landslide that began in Maine's state election last fall and affected the country-at-large continued in the annual municipal election in eleven of Maine's twenty cities today, when six democratic mayors were chosen, as against three in the same places a year ago, while in one city, Saco, the successful candidate ran on a democratic-citizens' ticket.

The towns electing democratic mayors are Bath, Ellsworth, Halloway, Lewiston, South Portland and Waterville.

LOST HALF OF TONGUE BY USING TOBACCO

New York, March 6.—As a result of his love of tobacco, Thomas E. Flannery, a New York hotel man, is minus half of his tongue today. Notwithstanding the unusual operation which he underwent at a downtown hospital yesterday, he was able to speak fairly well and take liquid nourishment. In the operation today it was necessary to administer the anaesthetic through the larynx. Fully half of the tongue, affected by a spreading growth, was removed. The patient had been an inveterate smoker, using on an average of 20 cigars a day, as well as several pipes of tobacco.

POSTAGE STAMP FRAUD CHARGED TO TRAVERS

Washington, March 6.—Arthur W. Travers, chief clerk to the third assistant postmaster general, today was dismissed from the service by Postmaster General Hitchcock, and later arrested on a charge of violating postal laws.

The dismissal of Travers was the result of an investigation by postal inspectators occupying more than a year. According to the inspectors, Travers today confessed to them that he had manipulated certain rare stamps so as to create a fictitious market value. He also, the inspectors declare, admitted changing the records of his office to show that the stamps had been destroyed after condemnation when they actually were not destroyed.

The value of the stamps disposed of exceeded $10,000, but the government will suffer no pecuniary loss.

CUTS ROOSEVELT OUT

Because of Colonel's Altitude Toward Jeff Davis.

Houston, Texas, March 6.—Because of Colonel Roosevelt's attitude toward Jefferson Davis, Judge Norman G. Kittrell has declined to serve on the reception committee which will meet the former president here next Sunday.

Colonel Jacob F. Wolters accepted the vacant committee position today, saying he did so owing to the restoration by Colonel Roosevelt of Davis' name on Cabin John bridge.

Judge Kittrell, explaining his withdrawal, said Colonel Roosevelt, in the life time of Jefferson Davis, incorporated erroneous statements in writings, and when Mr. Davis called attention to the fact that injustice had been done him, Colonel Roosevelt not only refused to make correction or response, but was reported to have said:

"I will have no communication with Mr. Jefferson Davis."

Judge Kittrell said Roosevelt has, so far as he knows, failed to deny the utterance of such words.

In response to this attitude of Judge Kittrell, Colonel Wolters took occasion to commend Colonel Roosevelt.

Chief Justice Lore Dead.

Wilmington, Del., March 6.—Charles Brown Lore, chief justice of the Delaware courts for fifteen years, was found dead in bed today at his residence in this city. He would have been 80 years of age on March 16. Mr. Lore was attorney general of Delaware in 1867, and served two terms in congress, beginning in 1882, as a democrat. His term as chief justice of the Delaware courts expired in 1909.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 6.—At the opening, the continental merchants sent many selling orders, which continued until noon, causing a further liquidation for American account, which finally closed the market barely steady at 20 point decline. Many rumors were current that the bull leaders were free sellers, which is the usual gossip when the market declines. Whether they did or not there was at all times a pressure to sell, and comparatively little support, after the local trade had bought all they needed.

There seems to be no change in the situation. The goods trade is reported poor, while the receipts do not show the falling off that had been expected. The traders are very much mixed over the sudden changes of the past week. Many southern buyers are here looking over our stock with a view of shipping it abroad.

Boston Capitalist

After spending nearly $5,000 securing Engineers' report and assays, on this property, has secured an option to purchase 51% of this stock at 43¾ per share.

This is an absolutely ground-floor proposition; agreement of sale proving these facts can be seen.

$175,000.00 is required immediately to carry on the work as laid out by our engineers, construct tramway to Old Harbor, shipping point, 14 miles distant, so as to begin shipping the ore now on the dumps. When the first cargo shipment is made, this stock should advance in leaps and bounds.

FAIREST MINING PROPOSITION ever offered you, without doubt.

Therefore, the first 100 who make application can secure this stock at the same rate, plus 4¼ cents per share commission.

$1.00 Per Share after the first 100 allotments are received. No certificates for less than 100 shares will be issued.

ALLOTMENTS commence Monday.

The West Indian Editor says: "After two visits, the impression borne upon us was that copper mining in Jamaica is no longer a speculation."

Write for what hundreds of others say.

An interesting report on these mines made by A. E. Outerbridge, Jr., Professor of Metallurgy, Franklin Institute, for the Engineering Magazine, can be had for the asking. It's valuable; it's worth while. Send for it.

"JUST ANY OLD WAY"

IF THE above caption at any time in the business world characterized successful business men, it does not any longer. If anyone thinks that he can open up a renting office and put some knot-headed fellow in charge of it, and that it will grow and prosper, he is fearfully mistaken. Success in this business means everlasting hammering at details with a correct idea of what to do. There must be system in its perfect form. There must be displayed patience, firmness, diligence, honesty. The renting business requires contact with the poor as well as rich tenant; with property-owners, both little and big; he meets small ideas and big conceptions. At last the question is: Who can get the most out of your property, who can get the best results, who will you engage as your renting agent?

430 INCHES OF SKIN GRAFTED ON NEGRO

Baltimore, March 6.—A remarkable experiment in skin grafting has been completed at a hospital in this city. The feature calculated to attract attention is the fact that 430 inches of the patient's skin had to be replaced and this was all done during a period of many months with cuticle taken from other portions of his body. The patient, a negro, was taken to the hospital November 21, 1909, with practically every particle of skin burned from his back.

The grafting process began December 16, 1909, and continued at intervals until the middle of last April. Then there was a cessation of the grafting operations for six months. They were resumed in November and completed in about five weeks, so that the ordeal through which the patient passed continued over a period of thirteen months.

LUMBER TALKS

No. 28.

By CY. PRESS.

THE CRIME OF THE CREAKING HOUSE would prove a "thriller" of a title for a Sherlock Holmes story—yet it does not require the intuitive genius of a "gum shoe" professor to "spot" the "creaking houses" that are "crimes in construction," if the matter be investigated, within the corporate limits of almost any town or city, anywhere.

There was a time when people bought what they needed, without doubt or question as to quality—it was the "known quantity" in what they bargained for. If they bought LUMBER the idea of questioning its being SEASONED LUMBER was too remote a thing to even think about. LUMBER WAS LUMBER, and there the matter began and ended. For authority, recall some old house you may have seen that tradition said, and records showed, had been built fifty or a hundred years ago; manorial mansions that are as stout and steady today as when built.

SEASONED LUMBER IS THE SOLUTION OF THEIR SOLIDITY.

There is just as good LUMBER TODAY as there was a hundred years ago.

There are just as honest people today as there were a hundred years ago; but the hurry of modern times—the quick demand—has sanctioned haste; and influenced facilitations in opposition to quality.

SEASONED LUMBER IS THE GUARANTEE OF STABILITY IN BUILDING.

E. G. WILLINGHAM'S SONS do not even stop at this mark. THEY KILN DRY THEIR FRAMING, and other LUMBER that goes into the making of SASH—DOORS—BLINDS, &c, &c, &c, and in every direction where the least question or doubt could arise as to SUFFICIENT SEASONING SECURITY. They put a quietus on doubt, and the LUMBER BUYER in a position of assurance.

With the specifications of what you will need in LUMBER itemized and quantity estimated, can you call to mind a more thoroughly reliable concern to patronize than E. G. WILINGHAM'S SONS?

was composed of wool and cotton.

The manufacturer returned the cloth to the wholesaler on the ground that IT WAS NOT AS REPRESENTED to him, whereupon the wholesaler sued the manufacturer.

The case was taken into court. The defense of the wholesaler was that "trade custom" of long standing standardized the practice of marking as all wool goods that were really composed in part of other materials.

Several prominent manufacturers were summoned as witnesses in the case.

They all testified that great harm was being done legitimate business by manufacturers who followed antiquated trade conditions—that it was their practice, as it should be the practice of every legitimate wholesaler or manufacturer, to LABEL GOODS FOR WHAT THEY WERE, and not what they were supposed to be. That is, if cloth is wool and cotton, say so—if it is all wool, say so—then nobody would ever buy a "pig in a poke."

The judge decided that CLOTH IS NOT ALL WOOL when there is anything in its composition other than wool, and he instructed the jury to find for the defendant and to disregard the plea of "TRADE CUSTOM."

Here is a lesson that ought to strike home.

No one should ever be permitted to advertise anything in a deceptive way.

Any article advertised should be as advertised—that is, whatever is said about an article should be ABSOLUTELY TRUTHFUL—no misrepresentation whatever.

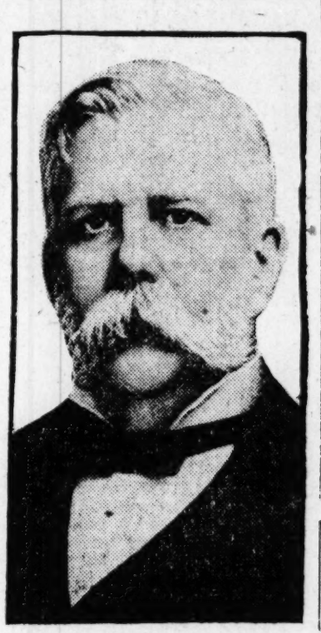
FAMOUS INVENTOR ATTENDS CONGRESS

One of the conspicuous figures to take part in the Southern Commercial Congress sessions will be George Westinghouse, famous inventor of the railroad air brake and president of thirty corporations. He is expected to make an address on "Electricity in the Development of the South."



GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE, Famous inventor, coming to Atlanta.

The first invention, and considered as being his greatest, was the air brake. It is hard to calculate the benefit to humanity by this invention, both as regards the saving of human life and making it possible to haul and control longer and heavier trains with fewer employees. About 95 per cent of all railroad trains are equipped with Westinghouse air brakes.

The next greatest achievement of Mr. Westinghouse was in the development and use of natural gas for fuel and domestic purposes.

There are now twenty large companies in the United States manufacturing Westinghouse apparatus, these companies representing a total of some $150,000,000, and employing about 75,000 workmen, and the amount of money disbursed in wages is a staggering sum.

Mr. Westinghouse maintains three homes—one in Pittsburg, where his greatest factories are located; a summer home at Lennox, Mass., and a winter home in Washington, D. C. While surrounded with all the luxuries of life, it is safe to say that no man in the entire Westinghouse organization works as hard.

Mr. Westinghouse is about 64 years of age, and fully as active as he was forty years ago.

50,000 Teamsters to Strike.

New York, March 6.—A vote will be taken tomorrow night on the question of a strike of the 50,000 teamsters in New York in sympathy with grocery wagon drivers, who recently struck in demand for uniform hours. The strike vote will follow a last attempt by the grocery drivers to press their case to a settlement with the employers.

Shoe Dealers in Session.

Nashville, Tenn., March 6.—A meeting of the Southern Shoe Dealers' Association executive committee was held at 9 o'clock this morning and at 11 o'clock the convention was called to order. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Howse, President Frank, of the board of trade, and A. H. Meadors, vice president of the Shoe Association, and response was made by President Zellner, of Memphis.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER DESERVES MORE PITY THAN MAN

Albany, N. Y., March 6.—That a woman charged with a capital offense should receive more consideration at the hands of a jury than a man, and ought not to be put to death for murder was the opinion expressed by several talesmen today at the trial of Mrs. Edith Melber, of Schenectady, charged with having poisoned her 5-year-old son, George, in a lonely swamp near Albany, last January. Twenty-four talesmen were examined, but only one, W. Smith, was accepted. Mrs. Melber, pale and apparently indifferent as to her fate, sat throughout the day's proceedings without uttering a word of suggestion to her counsel, John H. Dugan and former Assemblyman George M. Palmer.
